Merry Christmas

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Those two words have spelled happiness for centuries for those who express it and those who receive the greeting. It has come down to us from our forefathers and we will pass it on to future generations.

As we see the crowded churches this Christmas season and as we listened to the Messiah sung Sunday evening by the Town and Country Chorus, we realize the religious significance that the word "Christmas" has come to mean in this age of wars and threats of wars.

To our children it means gifts and a family dinner, but as we grow older our thoughts turn to the Christ Child and what his birth was meant to mean to this world of ours which the greed of man threatens to destroy.

One minister preached recently, "Put Christ first in your thoughts, Let Him be your guiding light, not only at Christmas, but every day. If you put Christ before everything else you do, life will be a wonderful experience indeed."

We wonder if those 22 GI's who have chosen Communism realize that they are saying goodbye to Christianity and to Christmas.

We have always understood that ministers of the gospel have as much right of freedom of speech as editors. Thus it was with surprise that we read in the daily press that a news commentator, Fulton Lewis, took to task the pastor of the Hollywood (Md.) Methodist church because he stated in his Sunday's sermon that the "problem of drink and rising tide of alcoholism is not in the taverns alone." The news story added that the pastor was guilty of urging his parishioners to abstain from drinking in the home.

Instead of halfway trying to placate Lewis, as was stated in the press, the pastor should have said, "If the shoe fits put it on," or in the vernacular of the street, "Go to h—."

Of course it would only be an old style Methodist who would stoop to use such language.

We heard a Republican chieftain say last week that unless the Republicans can find some good men as candidates, the Demos will walk off with the election next fall.

It seems that Governor Stratton's announcement that the April primaries would be wide open, was really extending an invitation to the civic minded people of the state to unearth some worthwhile candidates.

That invitation has been practically ignored by the people who should be interested in good government. Practically the only candidates who have come forward are politicians.

Unless there are some civic minded well-known leaders who are willing to risk putting their head on the executioner's block next November, it will not be necessary for the Democrats to even sharpen their campaign ax.

We believe that the regular Republican organization of Cook county is ready to support the candidates with the strongest appeal to the independent voters, who recently elected those Republican judges.

It is not often that we agree with the editorials of a certain Chicago newspaper, but the size of the Republican vote in Cook county next November depends upon the kind of men that the party organization is smart enough to endorse.

The screening of candidates by the Cook county Republican Central committee is now in progress. Downstate party heads say that Cook county can name the candidate for U. S. Senator to oppose Douglas. Because the cream of Republicans now reside in the suburbs, the country towns have the opportunity of finding the right man and electing the U. S. Senator. Will they muff it?

While the Soo Line railroad and the Illinois Commerce Commission were arguing over the division of costs for the installation of flashers on Palatine road, a family of seven have been wiped out. That accident could cost the railroad more money than the entire installation cost of the flashers.

Corporations are like some people, postponing definite decisions until it is too late.

Christmas breeds honesty. At least Verdell Muehfeldt, Arlington Heights, has found it so. When Shirley Service found a wallet on the street with no identification within except a stub of a money order purchased at the post office, she went to the post office to learn the owner's name.

A similar incident occurred at Mount Prospect where a wallet with no identification was found by a Mount Prospect mail carrier this week. The wallet is at the post office awaiting claimant.

We were unable to write a story of Christmas baskets this year because there are so few families in need, which fact should make this a truly Merry Christmas for all of us.

Palatine Road Flasher OK'd By State But--

Delaying tactics on the part of the Illinois Commerce Commission and the Soo Line railroad can be blamed for the wiping out Sunday night of a family of seven at the railroad crossing on Palatine rd.

"The installation of the warning signals was officially approved some time ago," reports J. P. Allen, 139 S. Forrest, Palatine. The files of the safety traffic department of the Chicago Motor Club tell the story of the efforts put forth by Allen to get that crossing protected.

SHORTLY AFTER a Palatine resident met her death there two years ago, Allen started his one-man safety battle. He took the matter up with the safety traffic department of the Chicago Motor Club, pointing out that with the completion of Edens Highway and the Palatine-Willow road, egress to that high speed highway, vehicle traffic on Palatine road would be greatly increased.

Through his continued appeal for action, the Illinois Commerce Commission was brought into the picture and both that body and the railroad recognized the danger that existed at the Palatine crossing. Official approval for the work was given by the state, and agreed to by the Soo line.

At late as last August, Allen was told the installation was awaiting agreement as to the division of costs.

The death of a family of seven is a high price to pay for traffic negligence.

Allen was interested for two reasons. He believes in safety and he crosses those tracks twice daily.

"DURING THE summer when there was a high field of corn on an adjoining field, it was necessary to stop your car to be certain there was no train approaching, which I frequently did," Allen told a reporter.

In foggy weather and at night there is nothing to apprise a motorist that he is approaching a railroad crossing. Residents in that area say that the number of trains has greatly increased.

A similar condition exists at Foundry and McDonald rds. The inquest regarding the death of the Fred Galle family has been continued, but Allen hopes public sentiment will hasten the flashers.

He adds, "I do not want any credit for my efforts, but I hope that other safety-minded people will bring additional pressure to bear upon both the state and railroad."

Board Approves Multiple Dwellings

The Arlington Heights village board concurred December 15 on the recommendation of the zoning board of appeals for the rezoning of property in the Carol subdivision, west of Grigsby Allison company, from Residential "A" to Residential "B" classification. The new zoning will permit multiple dwellings to be erected on the site.

The board also instructed Attorney Hugo J. Thal to draw up an amendment to the zoning ordinance to require lot sizes for multiple dwellings to be a minimum of 8,712 square feet.

The payroll for the first two weeks of December in the amount of $25,875.70 was approved for payment.

Motor fuel allotment for the month of October amounted to $3,661.43.

MRS. G. GOEWY, president of the Women's Advisory committee to the mayor, gave a report of the committee's activities to date, which was accepted by the board.

Charles F. Seales, speaking in behalf of the planning commission, gave an interim report on the one-way street program. He told the board a written report by the plan commission, advising the continuance of the one-way street program, would be submitted to the village board at its next regular meeting.

Train-Car Crash Fatal To Cary Family Of 7

A pre-Christmas tragedy took the lives of an entire family from Cary Sunday night when their auto was struck by a southbound Soo Line train at the Palatine rd. crossing in Wheeling township.

The dead are Fred Galle, 37; his wife, Violet, 33, and children, John, 8; Karen Ann, 1; Audrey, 12; Evelyn, 10, and Elaine, 6.

THE FATAL crossing is one of three in the immediate area which is not guarded by bells, flasher lights or gates. The other two are the Soo Line crossings on McDonald rd. and Foundry rd.

The Galles were enroute to their home after having had Sunday dinner with Mr. Galle's parents, the senior Fred Galles of 2020 Bissell, Chicago.

At an inquest Monday at the Oehler funeral home in Des Plaines the train engineer, J. P. Johnson, said he did not see the auto until the train struck it. He said the train was traveling approximately 55 or 60 miles an hour. The auto was dragged 200 feet after the impact.

E. D. SMILEY, engineer, said he saw the auto approaching the crossing. "At first it started to slow down, then the driver picked up speed," he said.

Both the engineer and fireman testified at the inquest that the train whistle was blown as they approached the crossing.

Funeral services for the family were held Wednesday morning at St. Theresa's church, 1037 Armitage, Chicago.

Yule Mail Speeded Up In Arlington

It has been a great Christmas in and about the Arlington Heights post office. Yes, the 25 regular and 36 special employees have been putting in some long hours. The holiday spirit seems to be everywhere — from the hundreds of pounds of Christmas mail that arrived on the last truck, across town to the former Grigsby-Allison garage on Evergreen st., where the parcel post has been handled by three clerks and five truck drivers.

To top all of this, the postmaster now feels that with the erection of the flag pole and flag flying from its top every day, the building is complete.

It is also a thankful lot of postal employees. Just suppose the long-talked-about postoffice building had not been built this year, how could the greatly increased mail have been handled in the old quarters.

Patrons of the office mailed this year a greatly increased number of greeting cards. The cancelling machine last Thursday handled 71,000 pieces. Friday it was 51,200, Saturday, 47,000 and Monday it rose to 53,000. The outgoing mail was more than matched by that brought in by truck for local delivery.

The postal employees worked hard, fast and long in order to avoid the mail flood that would have engulfed them if they had "loafed" on the job a single hour. Two clerks worked through the night sorting incoming mail in order that it might be delivered the next morning; three deliveries were made Sunday throughout Arlington Heights.

Every effort is being made to deliver all mail by Christmas eve that has arrived in the postoffice by six o'clock the previous evening. Mrs. Dodge and her assistant, Louis Zinkel, say that the office is in good shape.

Mail not distributed prior to December 25 is the fault of those few who did not heed the appeal to mail early.

Seven members of a Cary family were wiped out Sunday night when their car, pictured above, was struck by a Soo Line train at the Palatine rd. crossing, just west of Wolf rd. in Wheeling township. Those dead were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Galle and five children, Violet, Audrey, Evelyn, Karen Ann and Elaine. —Staff Photo.

Christmas Concert At Faith Church Sunday

The three choirs of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will present a sacred Christmas concert Sunday, at 4 p. m., at the church. Arthur Preuss, organist and choir director, will be in charge of the program.

ARTHUR PREUSS

Favorite Christmas music will highlight the concert, with each choir singing several numbers individually and then all joining together on other selections.

Guest organist for the afternoon will be David Johns, senior at Concordia Teachers' college, River Forest. Other instrumentalists will be Grace Wunsch as pianist, Paul Gustafson and Ronnie Blaschke as trumpeters, and Kenneth Busse and Alice Catherwood as violinists.

The public is invited to attend.

Driver's Alertness Saves Life Of Arlington Child

Alertness on the part of a driver averted a tragedy in Mount Prospect Tuesday at dusk. Miss Lorraine Honeman, 202 S. Elm st., driving south on Main st. between Busse and Northwest hwy., saw Ronald Tatar, 10, of Oakton rd., Arlington Heights, dart into the street from between parked cars. Although she jammed on her brakes, the car skidded on the ice and grazed the boy, knocking him to the pavement.

Ronald's father was holding two smaller boys by the hand, as the family crossed in the middle of the block to buy their Christmas tree. Ronald was not injured, and was released after examination by Dr. Wolfarth.

Rolling Meadows To Get Arlington Mail, Phones

Here is some good news for residents of Rolling Meadows. It will not be long before there will be phone service for those who have applications on file.

While large conduits are being installed, temporary service will be furnished a limited number of homes through a cable that will be extended south from Euclid ave.

The visit of a postal inspector to the area is the second bit of good news. In all probability door-to-door mail delivery will be furnished through the Arlington Heights post office.

'Adventure At Dawn' At Methodist Church Christmas Morning

One of the most beautiful and awe-inspiring services in commemoration of Christmas will be held at 5:30 o'clock Christmas morning at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights.

Entitled "Adventure at Dawn," the service is the second one of its kind to be held at the Methodist church, last year marking the first, with more than 300 people attending.

Giant red flares and spotlights will illuminate the exterior of the church to mark the place of service. Melchior, garbed in scarlet robe, and shepherds will be keeping watch at the entry to greet those attending.

The Chancel choir and Children's choir, numbering 55 voices, will sing traditional Christmas carols and the congregation will join in on several numbers.

Highlighting the service will be the "Prophecy" and "The Most Beautiful Story Ever Told," which will be read by Rev. Birger Dahl, pastor of the church.

Organist will be Miss Mercie Heise and pianist will be Mrs. H. Nelson. F. C. Schmoyer is director of the Chancel choir and Mrs. V. Olson is the Children's choir director.

Palatine, Arlington Women Injured In Two Heights Accidents

Mrs. Clara Wienecke, 254 W. Chicago ave., Palatine, was injured in an accident in Arlington Heights Sunday evening and is in Sherman hospital, Elgin. She suffered three broken ribs and a severe head cut, which required 11 stitches.

The accident occurred at Kasper ave. and Northwest hwy. Her husband, George, was driving west on the outer lane of the highway when he collided with an auto being driven by Thomas Langston, Rt. 72 and Meacham, Palatine. Langston was headed east on the highway, and, according to the police report, attempted to turn left across traffic and was hit on the right side by Wienecke's auto.

Langston was booked by Officers Tom Ullock and Irvin McDougall for failure to yield right of way.

Another woman, Mrs. Florence Wagoner, 42 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, suffered slight injuries in an accident Monday when the car she was riding in overturned on Northwest hwy., near Princeton ave., in Arlington Heights.

Driver of the auto, Gilbert Fallscher, 750 N. Pine, told Arlington police a tire blew out and caused him to lose control of the car. The car ran off the road on the right, then spun across the road and hit a stump, turning over on its left side and skidding to the opposite side of the road, a distance of 230 feet before stopping.

An Oldsmobile belonging to Mary Vormittag, 1207 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights, caught fire in the back seat, Sunday, causing considerable smoke damage to the car. A neighbor noticed the fire and called out the department.

The Arlington inhalator squad was called to Prospect Meadows Saturday to aid a small baby suffering from a convulsion.

Join Hands To Develop New Hospital Center

Meeting as a committee under the leadership of Ross Garrett, nationally prominent consultant in hospital organizational affairs, Northwest area citizens this week joined hands for the development of the Northwest Community Hospital Center, servicing the townships of Barrington, Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg and Wheeling.

THE NEXT ORDER of business for the committee will be to organize the first members of the board of trustees consisting of prominent civic leaders in these townships. According to Garrett, the organizational development will soon be completed so that the Northwest Community Hospital Center will be under a representative governing board with standard corporate structure eligible to receive tax-exempt gifts for its hospital building program.

The committee agrees that selection of a building site and all other matters regarding location and planning will be entirely up to the judgment of the representative board of trustees after their acceptance of membership on the board and that, in accordance with accepted practice, such matters will undoubtedly be determined by the board of trustees only after expert technical study and recommendation.

Hitler, Then Russians, Keep Family Away From United States 12 Years

What happier time than Christmas could a family, who has been separated for more than five years, have for a reunion. Such will be the case for Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Gerth, just back from behind the Iron Curtain, and son, Walter P., who is an airman technician, second class, in the U.S. navy.

Walter P. Gerth, airman technician, second class, of the U. S. Navy, who was recently reunited with his parents who escaped from behind the Iron Curtain.

The reunion scene will be in Palatine at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Marchetti, who reside on Old Plum Grove rd.

This story begins back in 1939 when the Gerths, with their son, went back to Germany to visit their parents. Mr. Gerth was a naturalized citizen of the United States and their son was born here, but Mrs. Gerth had not become a citizen. As they prepared to go back to the States they were told Mr. Gerth and the boy could leave, but because there was a war on and Mrs. Gerth was still a citizen of Germany, she would have to remain there.

FACED WITH the problem of leaving his wife or staying with her, Mr. Gerth chose the latter, even though it meant eventually losing his citizenship in the States and having to serve in the German army.

"It was pretty rugged," said Gerth, "and I sure hated fighting for 'Hitler's cause,' but I could not bear to leave my wife at the mercy of the Germans."

He said the Germans kept him away from the American lines and didn't give him an opportunity during the war to slip into the American zone. After the war he found it pretty difficult to find a job because he was still an American citizen, so in order to find work to provide for his family he had to give up his American citizenship.

In April, 1949, the Gerths, who were in the Russian sector of Germany, arranged for their son to escape from behind the Iron Curtain. The son managed to get back to the United States and was taken in by the Marchettis, who were family friends. He completed his senior year of high school at Palatine and a few days after his graduation he enlisted in the United States navy.

Young Walter saved his money faithfully and waited for the day he was 21, which was last June 28, at which time he made application to sponsor his parents to come back to the United States. The money he saved paid their passage home.

HOWEVER, IN March of this year Mr. and Mrs. Gerth simply left their home and all belongings, and, on a pretext of attending a wedding of a friend in Bavaria, managed to escape from behind the Iron Curtain.

"It was really quite simple," said Gerth, "because we carried nothing with us that would arouse suspicion. We told neighbors we were going to a wedding and I had my brief case with some business papers in it and if I had been questioned I would have said I was making a business call in Berlin. My wife took another route and we met at the station in Berlin, went down some steps to the elevated, boarded it and rode out of the Eastern sector without being questioned. Once we were in the Western sector we were safe. Friends offered us shelter until we were able to obtain visas to come to the States."

The Gerths came over on the new United States luxury liner and docked December 1. Walter got a leave from the navy, being stationed at Oceana, Va., and met his parents. He arrived home in Palatine Sunday and will be able to spend Christmas with his folks, the first one in five years.

"WE DID NOT suffer too much while in Germany," said Gerth, "as we received many gifts of food and clothing from friends in the states. Conditions were getting worse as we left and we feel extremely fortunate to get out when we did. In my opinion 90 per cent of the people in the Eastern sector are against Communism, but the Russians are really clamping down. The English language is no longer taught in the schools and students are now being forced to learn Russian along with German, even in the grade schools."

The Gerths have two other things to be grateful for this Christmas. One, Mr. Gerth has found a job, and two, they have found an apartment in Chicago.

"It's great to be home and to be with our son again," the Gerths said as the reporter was ready to leave. "Our son will finish his hitch in the navy in May and then he expects to go on to school and study electronics."

Explains Vote on Manager

I would like to correct any false impression that may have been given by my vote against the issue to appoint a city manager so called by ordinance rather than by referendum.

I am not against the idea of city manager government as such. However, as one of the three trustees elected in the last election on the home party platform, which pledged and promised to let the voters of the community have a full voice in all important village matters, I feel that a referendum vote on such an important matter is in keeping with our campaign promises.

Also, I do not personally feel that I am qualified, nor do I feel that any of the other members of the board are by background or training qualified, to select the right man or woman to fill the position of city manager.

WHETHER A city manager form of government is imposed upon our community by ordinance, or decided by free vote of the entire community, I believe that a committee of 12 or 15 outstanding men and women should be appointed by the Mayor to make this selection.

I have in mind such men and women as R. E. Clabaugh, Leroy J. Knoeppel, Robert R. Lockwood, William A. Gerbosi, Ira S. Parker, Earle M. Ellis, Art Franzen, president of the bank, Mrs. Clint Rosene, the head of PTA, Mrs. Florence Stadelman, president of the Woman's club, Mrs. Ann Grigsby of the DAR, Tom Hildebrandt, International Harvester Co., Quentin K. Ford, president of the Lions club, and the president of the Kiwanis club, to mention but a few of the outstanding men and women who we can be sure have the best interests of our community as a whole at heart.

THE APPOINTMENT of a committee of people of this calibre would definitely remove the selection of a city manager from politics and would be for the best interests of our community. It would free the city manager selected from pressure on the part of any clique or group and enable him to always conduct his duties for the best interests of our entire village.

The impression has been given that if a city manager form of government were decided upon by referendum, that only another referendum could change back our present form of government. This is not necessarily true. A referendum vote to try out a city manager form of government for a limited time as a trial could be just as flexible as any ordinance form and could be subject to the same exact controls.

I still maintain that since the majority of the voters at the last election voted for the present form of village government, and for the present three new trustees, and Mayor Albert W. Goedke to continue to carry on the present form of government, these voters now have a right to vote on the matter of changing this form of government, whether it be for a week, a month, or for years.

I PROMISED I would follow the platform on which I was elected. Until the more than 2,700 fine people who voted for me to work for their interests as a member of the village board, and to carry out the promises and pledges made on the home party platform, free me from the duties of keeping these promises and pledges, I shall continue to do so. I could not in good conscience do otherwise.

As for the article relating to the 1953 appropriation budget, I am willing to let the record speak for itself. If anyone can honestly and sincerely say that a 35 to 40% increase in their appropriation request is economy, then they simply don't understand the full meaning of the word itself.

Sincerely,
Charles C. Rehfeldt

Rehfeldt Presents First Financial Statement

In consideration of the pre-election pledge of the Home Party, Alderman Chas. Rehfeldt, chairman of the finance committee will publish next week a statement of Arlington Heights village finances as of Nov. 30. It shows the amount of the budget, the amount the present board has expended and the remaining balance.

It's wonderful to be back in America after 12 years in Germany, being forced to stay there through both the Hitler and Russian regimes," said Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Gerth after their miraculous escape from behind the Iron Curtain. They were recently reunited with their son, Walter P., and are staying at the Palatine home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Marchetti, until they move into their own apartment in Chicago. —Staff Photo.

City Directory

A final check of names is now in progress before going to press with Arlington Heights 1954 city directory. Recent changes in those on the village water list are being included, but Paddock Publications ask that those who have moved to apartments or multiple dwellings since last April, call CL 3-1520 giving name, address and apartment number.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Churches of Arlington Heights will be celebrating Christmas with services traditional to their own faith. Many will hold special observances Christmas eve, tonight, and others will hold theirs tomorrow morning.

At St. Peter Lutheran church children of the parish school will present their program in two sections at 6 and 7:30 tonight. Children whose names begin with the letters A through L will perform at 6 and the rest at the later program. The church will also hold two services Christmas morning, at 9:15 in German and 10:45 in English.

Preceded by Sunday's program by the beginner and primary children of the Church school, Christmas Eve at 7:30 will see the older boys and girls of Faith church giving "O Holy Night," the "Christmas story in recitation and song" incorporating colored pictures. A festival service will be held at 10 a.m. Christmas morning

NEW SANCTUARY of the Presbyterian church, which was dedicated Sunday in impressive services, will be the scene of a Christmas eve service at 11 p.m. Both the high school and adult choirs, under the direction of Earle Auge, will sing, and those attending will participate in the singing.

Children of the Presbyterian church had their own program Sunday night when all age groups, from the nursery departmnet on up, helped produce the traditional story of Christmas in song, tableau, and readings from the Bible.

Caroling in the village played a large part in the Christmas plans of youth groups of the Methodist church. Both the intermediate and senior MYF groups caroled Sunday afternoon. Children in Sunday school classes through junior department age participated in a pageant Sunday afternoon. The "Adventure at Dawn" service so appreciated last year, held at 5:30 a.m. on Christmas, will be repeated at the Methodist church this year. This is the service of which visitors reported that "it really gave them the true feeling of Christmas."

St. John's Episcopal Sunday school children in Mount Prospect will present a useful gift and a joyous gift to the Christ child at special services today at 4:30. They will be distributed to needy children in the Chicago diocese.

St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church will have a children's program tonight at 7:30.

TRADITIONAL midnight mass will begin the Christmas services at both St. James and Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic churches. Additional masses are held later in the night and on Christmas morning. It will indeed be a special occasion at Wayside, for Midnight mass will be the first service in their new church building.

Holly Dance

That "dancy" group, the Junior Woman's club—which has already presented two successful dances this fall, their tea dance and hard times party—will liven the holiday season with the annual Holly dance Saturday

Entertain Mothers At Christmas Party

The Arlington Heights Nursery school, which meets at the First Presbyterian church daily, held its annual Christmas party Tuesday. Mothers of the youngsters were the special guests.

The children entertained with Christmas songs, rhythm band numbers and movies and refreshments highlighted the party.

Classes will be resumed January 4.

Expect Record Number Of Phone Calls

Christmas telephone calling may reach a new high this year, according to W. C. Lathen, Illinois Bell's manager here.

"Although our telephone operators handled a total of 4575 calls last year on Christmas day, this year's rush is expected to be even greater," said Lathen. "For this reason and to avoid delay on long distance calls I'd like to urge everyone to make his telephone greetings before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day."

WHERE CHRISTMAS BEGINS

Christmas is not in tinsel and lights and outward show . . .
The secret lies in an inner glow
It's lighting a fire inside the heart . . .
Good Will and Joy are a vital part.
It's a higher thought and a greater plan.
It's a glorious dream in the soul of man.
Christmas begins deep down inside . . .
Then engulfs the world like a mighty tide!

Posting The Guard

by SGT. BOB SCHAFFER

"With Christmas on our very doorstep and that wonderful Yuletide spirit in our hearts, let us look to the serious side for a moment.

"May we give a sincere thought to those brave men who put aside their personal lives to fight and die for Democracy; the free man's ideal. May we dedicate our profound thanks to the men who died there—and to the men who were inflicted with wounds—May we say "Thanks and may God speed your recovery.' We thank them all, that we may once again settle down to another Christmas in a land of freedom and liberty.

"I wish each and every one of you the sincerest of Yuletide Greetings and the Happiest New Year wishes. May the coming year be one of accomplishment and satisfaction for all."

Lt. Clifford Prate,
Commanding Co. M.
228th Infantry Regiment,
Ill. National Guard.

Sergeant first class Daune Overton and his wife, Barda, received their Christmas present a little early this year. It arrived Friday, Dec. 18. Their Christmas package contained a 6 pound 2 ounce baby girl by the name of Holly Denise Overton. Both Mommy and Holly are feeling fine. Congratulations and a very Merry Christmas, Mom and Dad!

Christmas Seals At Three-Quarter Mark

"Thanks a lot," said Mrs. John Allen, 116 W. Euclid, Christmas seal chairman for Arlington Heights, in appreciation of the time and efforts devoted by residents of this community to the 47th annual Christmas seal sale.

The 47th annual Christmas seal sale, which began November 16, is sponsored by the Tuberculosis institute of Chicago and Cook county.

Approximately $540,000 of the $700,000 goal is expected by Christmas day, the institute announced.

Ninety-four cents of every dollar received stays within the Chicago area for the mass chest X-ray program carried on.

New Church Sanctuary Dedicated Last Sunday

In precisely-duplicated services at 9:30 and 11 o'clock Sunday morning the new sanctuary of the Arlington Heights First Presbyterian church was dedicated with more than 1000 persons attending.

In his sermon, "A Promise Fulfilled," the Rev. C. Victor Brown gave recognition to the sacrifice and achievement of the congregation in the completion of the new sanctuary, and he referred also to the similar accomplishments of the earlier congregations of the church.

THE KEY to the sanctuary was presented to Mr. Brown by Dr. Paul S. Johnson, representing the Chicago Presbytery of the Presbyterian church organization, the key having passed first from the hands of Carl M. Teutsch, architect, to Nicholas M. Lattof, chairman of the building committee, and from him to James W. Webster, president of the board of trustees.

In the course of his sermon, Mr. Brown called attention to the major symbols of worship in the new sanctuary. The rear of the chancel is beautified by a great red dossal hanging on which appear the traditional letters, I.H.S., representative of "Jesus, Savior of Man," together with a six-foot Celtic wooden cross which is the ancient British symbol of Christianity. Mr. Brown also described the significance of the Communion table and the symbols upon it — the vases of living flowers, the candlesticks, and the gold cross.

The schedule of dual services at 9:30 and 11:00 inaugurated on dedication day is to be continued indefinitely in the new sanctuary.

SPECIAL FEATURES of the new building include a narthex separated form the nave by a glass partition. It is equipped with a speaker system so that mothers with infants may hear the service without disturbing the congregation. Marking the division between nave and chancel are the pulpit and lectern, finished in a soft white tone which complements the balance of the interior styling. Space for a 35-voice choir is provided on the two sides of the chancel.

The ceiling of the church is of accoustical plaster. Lighting fixtures are equipped with pressure louvres which allows air to be withdrawn from the nave when the 12,000 cubic-foot per-minute exhaust fan is in operation.

The sanctuary has no visible heating equipment. Wrought-iron pipes carry heating water from the boiler in the old church building to the new sanctuary, circulating through the floor and side walls.

Seating capacity of the church, including the balcony above the narthex, is slightly over 500.

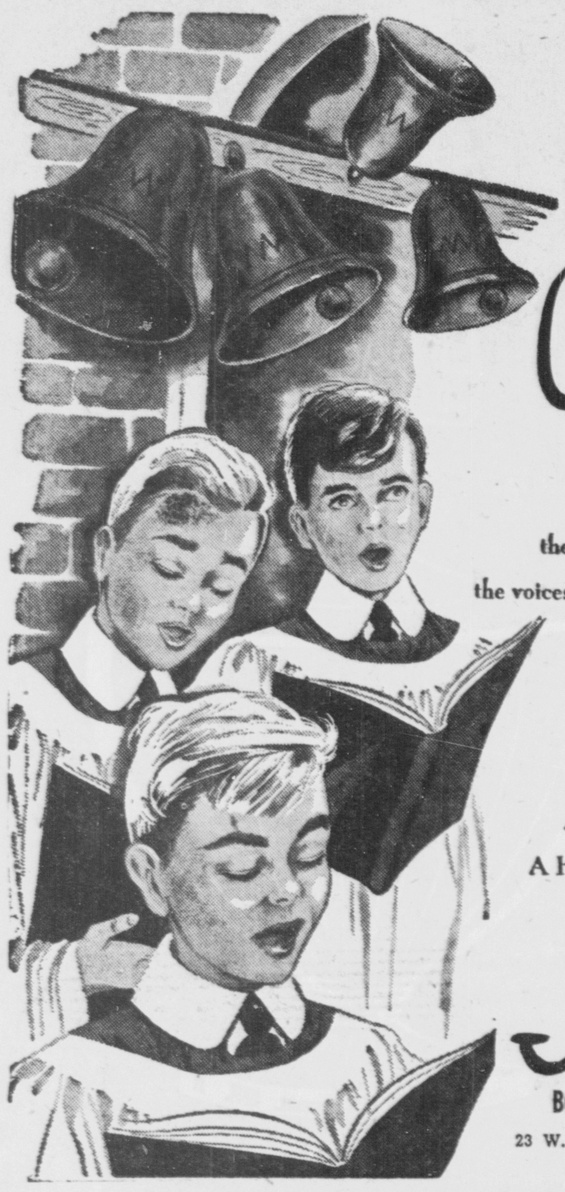
The building's public address system also carries the service to the sanctuary of the old church building where additional worshippers may be seated in the event of an overflow of the new building. An attractive cloister connects the old and new buildings and provides a direct avenue of approach for children and adults going from church school quarters to the worship services without going outside into the weather.

William Fellows Receives Promotion

William H. Fellows, 1003 E. Euclid ave., Arlington Heights, former district sales manager of the midwestern area for Bay State Abrasive Products Co. of Westboro, Mass., was recently promoted to the position of sales coordinator of the company.

He had been district sales manager for four and a half years.

He will assume his new position January 1 at which time he and his family will move to Westboro.



Season's Greetings

May the chiming of the joyous Christmas bells, the voices of the choir boys, bring to you again all the warmth of spirit and peace of heart of this glorious season.

A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year to all!

Merry Christmas

FOR many of us the Holiday season is also "inventory time." This is a happy coincidence. Because, when we come to count our assets . . . none is quite so valuable as the one that never appears on our books, but which is always written large in our hearts . . . the friendship and loyalty of those whom we are privileged to serve. To one and all of you we say most sincerely "Thanks a million . . . and may the happiness of the season abide with you and yours throughout the New Year."

Here's Scouting

Post 707 Gets An Advisor!

Al Wendt, a newcomer to the community, has accepted a position as Explorer Advisor of Post 707. Mr. Wendt is an experienced scouter. He was a scoutmaster in Chicago, has completed basic and advanced training, was a district commissioner, and a member of a troop committee. We would like to welcome Mr. Wendt to our scouting family.

Napowan Staff Reunion

This year's camp staff at Napowan will hold its reunion at the home of Rusty Kane in Glenview December 30. The reunion will begin at 4 p. m. The staff will have supper. Rusty would like to see all old friends there

President Greets Boy Scouts

"To the Boy Scouts of America.

The approaching yuletide season affords me a most welcome opportunity once again to salute the Boy Scouts of America.

"Scouting is an institution which personifies those qualities of heart and mind that we associate with morality and good citizenship. That is why I believe this season of the year with its emphasis on peace and good will is especially meaningful to the Boy Scouts of America.

"To all members of this splendid organization, Cub Scouts, Scoutmasters, and other leaders, I extend my best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy new year."

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Mark Cleaver

Mark Cleaver, who died last week, was once an active scouter. During the years of 1947-48-49, he was a member of the troop committee of Troop 7 in Arlington Heights. The Scouts extend their sympathy to the Cleaver family.

Explorer Winter Camp

Plans have been started for the Explorer Winter Camp, which will be held the last weekend in January. The tentative site is Camp Baden-Powell .

Council Annual Meeting

January 16 the field house of Rand Park in Des Plaines will be filled with scouters. They will be attending the annual meeting of the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The mainstay of the program will be the dramatization and pageant of the year's accomplishments, the election of new council officers, presentation of the Silver Beaver Awards, and presentation of the scoutmaster's key and the scouter's training award. The affair will begin with supper at 7 p. m.

Troop 7—Post 707 Hold Christmas Party

Troop 7 and Post 707 combined their efforts and had a joint Christmas party Monday night. Included in the program were skits by each patrol and crew, caroling, a 25c grab bag, and refreshments, supplied by the troop's and the post's combined committee, and the Lions club.

Post 153 Gets Meeting Place

Besides cleaning up the room in the basement, which will be used for their meeting place, they cleaned up another room to be used for storage. Also, a post committeeman, E. L. Wilson, explained a new plan devised by the post committees, which is to have leaders in various fields of business come in and talk to the members of the post on the prospects in that field.

Merry Christmas

The Here's Scouting column would like to take this opportunity to wish the executives, office help, scouters, explorers, boy scouts, and cub scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council a merry Christmas.

Dorothy Appleyard, Frank Larrance Wed

Candelabra, large baskets of white mums and an arch decorated with evergreens formed the setting for the wedding December 12 of Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Appleyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Appleyard, 309 Shabonee trail, Mount Prospect, and Frank Eldon Larrance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Larrance, 432 Sixth ave., Three Rivers, Mich.

Pastor H. Grupe officiated at the candlelight ceremony held at 5:30 p.m. at Barrington Center Bible church. Marshall Peterson sang "I Love You Truly," "The Wedding Prayer" and "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Ruth Michalko. The pews were also decorated with evergreens and white satin bows as were the windows and tops of the doors.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white satin and chantilly lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a crown trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and ivy.

Miss Marjorie Joze was the maid of honor. Mrs. Dolores Landwehr, Miss Virginia Norgren and Miss Eva Maseng were the bridesmaids. All the attendants wore American beauty red velvet gowns and headpieces fashioned into halos of velvet leaves with matching veils. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of American beauty red and white carnations accented by a center of red roses. The bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of American beauty red and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Appleyard wore a soft blue crepe gown trimmed with lace decorated with pearls and rhinestones. The groom's mother wore an aqua chiffon gown trimmed with lace. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

Victor Larrance of Los Angeles, Calif., brother of the groom, was best man. Fred Krugel of Minneapolis, Minn., Allan Knevels of Fort Belvoir, Va., and Mervin Fish of Lansing, Mich., brother-in-law of the groom, were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held at the Baker hotel in St. Charles. Musical entertainment took place after the dinner.

The couple honeymooned at Smoky Mountain National Park where they stayed at the Gatlinburg Inn. They are now making their home in Three Rivers, Mich.

Previous to her marriage, the bride-elect was honored at two showers. The first was given by her maid of honor and the second was given by the ladies of the Barrington church.

Couple Married Recently

Now residing in Crystal Lake are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Rasmussen, who were married recently at the Barrington Methodist church. Mrs. Rasmussen, the former Blanche Marie Bein, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bein Sr., 14 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

Mr. Rasmussen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rasmussen of Crystal Lake.

A reception for 350 people was held at Wiechsville Picnic Grove at Slocum Lake. The couple plan to spend a belated honeymoon in New York in January.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

During this happy holiday week many housewives will be playing hostess to family and friends at open houses.

This week we are featuring some ideas for little fancy sandwiches to be served at these open houses, accompanied by fruit punch or eggnog.

The first suggestion is for finger sandwiches composed of cream cheese and crabapple jelly. Have a sandwich loaf sliced length-wise. On one of the long slices spread strips of cream cheese along the edges and down the middle. Fill in the space between the strips with crabapple jelly. Then cut the bread on the diagonal. If you use a spritz machine for the cream cheese the sandwiches will be more decorative. But nonetheless they will look Christmasy with their red and white color, and will taste good, too.

On another slice from the sandwich loaf spread ham salad. Roll the bread as you would a jelly roll. Secure with toothpicks, wrap in a moist cloth and place in the refrigerator. When roll is set and firm, slice into small pinwheel sandwiches.

Other slices of the sandwich loaf can be cut with Christmas cookie cutters into shapes of bells, Christmas trees, etc. Spread with cream cheese and decorate with pimiento or red and green marischino cherries.

Another idea is to bake date and nut bread in tall, cylindrical olive cans. When cool, slice and spread with cream cheese. Cut marischino cherries into the shape of tulips and place on sandwich. Use green pepper or pickles for stems and leaves.

And an especially appetizing little sandwich can be made by baking tiny cream puffs and filling them with chicken salad.

Here is a suggestion for an appetizer prior to your Christmas dinner. Serve small glasses of cranberry juice with a scoop of lime sherbet in each. It is colorful and delicious.

A Merry Christmas and happy holiday season to all!

DesPlaines Chapter, Women Of The Moose

Des Plaines chapter, 835, Women of the Moose, held their social service chapter night December 10.

Two members were initiated into the chapter. They were Mrs. Arlene Jahnke and Mrs. Lydia Corey of Des Plaines. Entertainment was provided by Janice Schinuka.

Mrs. Rose Page wishes to thank all who helped her make the Christmas party a success.

Dues of the Academy of Friendship members are payable at this time.

The Alumni committee will hold a hard times party and box social at Moose hall January 23. Tickets are now available from committee members.

Daughter Home After 13 Months In Hospital

MARTHA SCHAEFER

It will be a merry Christmas for Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer of N. Patton ave., Arlington Heights, as their daughter, Martha, who has spent 13 months in St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan, returned home December 19.

MARTHA, 17, was critically injured in November, 1952 and has been hospitalized since. Her parents wish to express their thanks to the many people who donated blood for the many transfusions that were necessary.

The young high school girl was struck by an auto while standing in front of her parents' summer home at Gages lake. Her right leg was badly crushed and required a series of 24 operations, but she is now able to get about on crutches and the doctors have high hopes of her complete recovery.

Catholic High Club Entertains Chicago Children

Girls of the Heights Catholic High club are bringing Christ back into Christmas by giving of themselves and their talents to make others happy. The club is an organization of St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights.

The group abandoned plans for a Christmas party for themselves to give one for the underprivileged children of the Cordi-Marian Settlement.

Cars full of girls and a truck load of toys drove to Chicago December 19 to entertain little Mexican children. The program began with hymns followed by carols. The Settlement children sang Spanish Christmas songs for the club.

"A Christmas Dream," a play written by Midge Baier and Sherrill Reed, was presented in costumes. The young ladies served Christmas cookies, which they themselves baked, and root beer.

Santa Claus talked with every child and presented them with gifts. The girls of the club spent many hours renewing the 300 toys which were donated by the children of St. James school.

Members of the club were so impressed by the needs of these people that they plan to set up a permanent committee to collect clothing and other necessities for them throughout the year.

The club carolers entertained the residents at Weinert Convalescent Home and other shut-ins December 22.

Stork Feathers

A second daughter, Marla Michele, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richard, 814 S. Evergreen ave., Arlington Heights, December 12 at Wesley Memorial hospital. The baby weighed 6 pounds 4 ounces. Her older sister is Karen Renee, 3 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fossett, Hainton, Okla., are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott, 933 Yale ave., Arlington Heights, are parents of a baby daughter, Diane, born December 6 at Evanston hospital. She weighed 6 pounds 14 ounces. Diane has two brothers, Bobby, 5, and Philip, 4. Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Newman, Evanston, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Elkhart, Ind., are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Novak, 929 S. Beverley, Arlington Heights, are parents of a son, Mark Alan, born December 12 at Evanston hospital weighing 5 pounds 12 ounces. The baby has a brother, Russell, 6 years old. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherry of Berwyn and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novak of Hinsdale.

Parents of their first child, a daughter, Holly Denise, are Mr. and Mrs. Daune Overton of Arlington Heights. The baby was born December 18 at St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, weighing 6 pounds 2 ounces. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Root of Franklin Park and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Overton of Prairie View.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin Koziol Sr., Williams ave., Palatine, are parents of a son, Frank Martin Jr., born December 16 at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces. The baby has a sister, Beverly Ann. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Etteldorf Sr. of Elgin and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Tonn of Palatine.

Junior Women Plan Annual Holly Dance

Carrying out a yuletide tradition, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club will present its annual Holly dance at Mt. Prospect Country club December 26, starting at 9:30 p. m. Tickets are $3.50 per couple and may be purchased at the door the night of the dance. Dress is optional.

At its last meeting December 14, the club was privileged to have as its guest speaker Mrs. Frances L. Wolf who gave a humorous sketch entitled, "By Christmas Starlight."

Socks were collected at this time to distribute to high school boys at Lawrence hall, one of the club's projects. It was also decided that there would be a raffle at the Holly dance for the benefit of the Bensenville orphanage.

Fifty-two youngsters were on hand to greet Santa Claus December 22 when the club had a morning Christmas party for their children at the Faith Lutheran church. Mrs. Wilbert Granzin of Mt. Prospect was in charge, and all youngsters went home with a gift and a tummy full of ice cream.

Mrs. Granzin also led the Christmas carolers the evening of December 23. It was decided that this year the members would carol in the streets of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect, and a large group turned out for a very enjoyable evening.

Woman's Club To Mark Sixty-Sixth Anniversary

The presentation of the play, "Reminiscing," will mark the sixty-sixth anniversary of Arlington Heights Woman's club, which will be observed at the field house at 1:30 p.m. January 6.

Members of the Village Theatre group will assist members of the Woman's club in this presentation highlighting the events from their origin in 1888 until the present time.

Mrs. Charles Stadleman, president, will introduce the prominent Mrs. E. J. Heckel, director of the northern regional district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Eugene Kuntzman, president, and Mrs. Harvey Strickler, junior vice president of the seventh district, IFWC.

MRS. MILTON DANIELS, club historian, is responsible for gathering the history of the club, thereby making the play possible.

Hardly a woman is now alive who remembers that famous date, January 6, 1888, when Mrs. Amos Walker invited five of her best friends to her home on St. James st. to formulate the Ladies Reading circle which is now the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

These five women were: Mrs. Daniel F. Fast, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. D. K. Draper, Miss Nellie Noyes and Mrs. Milton Goodfellow. Their objective was and still remains the furthering of one's education by such things as reading good books and discussing them at study group meetings.

It also includes social intercourse and philanthropic works and assisting in raising funds for public health projects and school funds.

In 1899 the club, then with a membership of 65, joined the Federation of Women's clubs with an objective to expand further.

At the turn of the century, these 65 members bickered for five months before agreeing that the colors of the club should be pink and green. This exemplifies the seriousness and sincerity that prevailed among this small group of women and how they shouldered their responsibilities.

Their club meetings were attended diligenly by all the membership "come rain, snow or high water," and it must be remembered that transportation was mostly by foot, bobsled or horse and buggy.

BY 1894 two members of the club, the Misses Effie and Lucy Sheppard, pledged the use of their home, 310 N. Dunton ave., two days a week to be used as a public library. Members were asked to contribute books and the club inaugurated a library day to be held once a year when members were obliged to contribute a book or make a cash donation.

Soon 750 books had been collected and the school children were privileged to borrow these books after being issued library cards. In 1909 Arlington Heights school board gave space in the Old North school to be used as a library, and since this offered some improvement, the Arlington Heights Woman's club proceeded to operate a library from the school.

In 1926 the village board made room for a library in the town hall and the Woman's club donated their books and their accumulated cash fund of $1,800 dollars. Recently the new and modern library was completed at 112 N. Belmont ave. in Arlington Heights and the Woman's club provided the funds for landscaping this project.

THE LIBRARY will always remain a primary project of the Woman's club.

Arlington Heights Woman's club has always been the first to support and contribute to the many worthy public functions and welfare organizations. And the club's motto, "Woman can rise no higher than Womanhood whatever be her title," is exemplified by its work.

They have also contributed money for playgrounds at the public schools, and three paintings, donated many years ago, hang in the high school. During the depression, this organization with the help of several other civic minded groups, helped run a community kitchen in Arlington Heights. And during both World Wars, the club worked diligently with the Red Cross and dropped their other projects to devote all their efforts to the cause of winning peace.

Today this club is represented by a membership of more than 500 women all striving to uphold the ideals laid down by those six women who met in 1888.

Mrs. Burton A. Noyes, left, past president of the Arlington Heights Woman's club and oldest living member, gives the current president, Mrs. Charles Stadelman, information as to how the club was operated in years gone by, which will be used in a play depicting the club's 66th anniversary. Mrs. Noyes has also held offices in the district and state divisions of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. The play is to be presented at the founder's day program January 6. —Staff Photo.

St. Ann's Club Holds Holiday Party

St. Ann's club of St. James Catholic church met at the home of Mrs. Otto Wulbecker, 115 N. Pine st., Arlington Heights, December 10.

Mrs. Wulbecker's grandchildren entertained the group with holiday selections on the accordion.

Cards and exchanging gifts with secret pals were also a part of this pre-Christmas party. Members also received names of their new secret pals.

The group attended the movie, "Little Boy Lost," in Arlington Heights December 14.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Artistic Lass

Pictured first is a clever little lass, who at the age of 4½ made her own Christmas cards to send out this year.

Nancy Darlene Chlupsa has light brown hair and brown eyes. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chlupsa, 605 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Nancy's artistic interests can be evidenced by her activities which include modeling clay, drawing pictures, etc. She also likes to play with dolls, ride her tricycle and play outdoors with other children.

This young miss enjoys watching Ding Dong school on TV and attending Sunday school at Faith Lutheran church.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Andrews, who live with the Chlupsa family, and Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Chlupsa of Lions, Ill.

Mother's Helper

Little Brad Franzen, pictured next, loves to help his mommy clean the house, and especially likes to vacuum. This 2½-year-old has brown hair and brown eyes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Franzen, 819 S. Beverly lane, Arlington Heights.

Brad also enjoys playing with his trucks, cars, steam shovels, etc., and he loves to be read to. This youngster is fascinated by his pretty Christmas tree. He has a pet dog named Sue.

Brad's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Franzen of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kastner of Chicago.

Young Mechanic

Blond-haired, brown-eyed William Michael Hessler, pictured last, is very interested in mechanical toys and loves to build things. Mike is 4½ years old, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hessler, 1118 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

This young fellow also likes to play basketball and baseball, and has fun riding his two-wheel bicycle. He also enjoys attending nursery school, and likes to read books.

Mrs. William Couch of Warren, Ohio, is Mike's grandmother.

Mrs. Harold Lussow left, portraying the late Mrs. Amos W. Walker, first president and one of the founders of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, and Mrs. J. A. Smith, portraying Miss Nellie Noyes, another founder and past president of the club. This is a scene from the play that will be presented in commemoration of the 66th anniversary of the club, January 6. The picture was taken at the home of Mrs. Edward Friedel, 505 N. Dunton, which is one of the older homes in Arlington, and former home of the late Mrs. S. E. Plate, an early member of the club. —Staff Photo.

Helen Lauffenburger Weds Robert Ecklin

The marriage of Miss Helen Lauffenburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lauffenburger of Palatine, and Robert Ecklin of Wheaton took place November 28 at St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church, Palatine.

Soft candlelight and a profusion of pink and white mums and gladioli set the scene for the double ring ceremony, which was performed at 7:30 p.m. by Rev. Glenn G. Gumm.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of ivory lace fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and three-quarter length sleeves with Queen Anne cuffs. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. Two yellow orchids surrounded by a cascade of white snowdrift mums formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Joan Mudlaff of Palatine was maid of honor. She wore an apple red silk organza waltz length gown and carried a bouquet of white snowdrift mums and croton leaves.

Mrs. William Beutjer of St. Paul, Minn., was the bridesmaid. She wore a light green gown identical to that worn by the maid of honor.

William Beutjer was best man, and Wallace Vallette of Wheaton was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a gray dress with a matching hat and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 135 guests was held following the ceremony at the Union hotel, Wheeling.

The couple are now making their home at 807 W. Lexington st., Oak Park, following a honeymoon in the south.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The practical value of daily obedience to the teachings of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Among the selections to be read from the Bible, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science," will be the following:

"But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus" (II Timothy 3: 14, 15).

The following correlative citation will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The substance of all devotion is the reflection and demonstration of divine Love, healing sickness and destroying sin. Our Master said, 'If ye love me, keep my commandments' " (241: 19).

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations" (52: 9, 10).

More Than 28,000 Vets Taking State Training

Nearly 29,000 Illinois veterans are enrolled this fall in the state's schools and training establishments under Veterans Administration training program. The national figure is almost 600,000.

Robert D. Beer, manager of the VA Regional Office, Chicago, said the Illinois total includes a record breaking 12,500 veterans taking training under the fourteen-month-old Korean GI Bill. Another 15,800 are World War Two veteran still enrolled under the original GI Bill.

Ordinance No. 849

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AN ORDINANCE ENTITLED: "AN ORDINANCE TO CLASSIFY, REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE LOCATIONS OF TRADES AND INDUSTRIES AND THE LOCATION OF BUILDINGS DESIGNED FOR SPECIFIC USES: TO REGULATE AND LIMIT THE INTENSITY OF THE USE OF LOT AREAS AND TO REGULATE AND DETERMINE THE AREA OF YARDS, COURTS AND OTHER OPEN SPACES WITH AND SURROUNDING SUCH BUILDINGS, AND TO ESTABLISH THE BOUNDARIES OF DISTRICTS FOR THE SAID PURPOSES AND PRESCRIBING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS," PASSED ON THE 30TH DAY OF AUGUST, A. D. 1927, AND APPROVED ON THE 30TH DAY OF AUGUST, A. D. 1927.

WHEREAS, the owners and parties interested in the hereinafter described lots and parcels of land, have heretofore petitioned for the rezoning of said lots and parcels of land from their classification as Residence District A to the classification of Commercial District; and

WHEREAS, such petition was referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals of this Village; and

WHEREAS, said Zoning Board of Appeals after due notice as required by law, held a public hearing on said application and has recommended to the President and Board of Trustees of this Village that such rezoning and reclassification be granted, therefore

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, County of Cook and State of Illinois:

SECTION 1. That an ordinance entitled:

"AN ORDINANCE TO CLASSIFY, REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE LOCATIONS OF TRADES AND INDUSTRIES AND THE LOCATION OF BUILDINGS DESIGNED FOR SPECIFIC USES: TO REGULATE AND LIMIT THE INTENSITY OF THE USE OF LOT AREAS AND TO REGULATE AND DETERMINE THE AREA OF YARDS, COURTS AND OTHER OPEN SPACES WITHIN AND SURROUNDING SUCH BUILDINGS, AND TO ESTABLISH THE BOUNDARIES OF DISTRICTS FOR THE SAID PURPOSES AND PRESCRIBING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS," passed on the 30th day of August, A. D. 1927, and approved on the 30th day of August, A. D. 1927, as amended, be amended by taking out of Residence District A, as therein defined, and rezoning and placing in Commercial District, as herein defined, the following described premises, to-wit:

Lots Thirty (30), Thirty-one (31) and Thirty-two (32) in Block six (6) in Reuter's Westgate Unit No. 1, a subdivision of part of the Southwest Quarter of Section Thirty (30), Township Forty-two (42) North, Range Eleven (11) East of the Third Principal Meridian, all of said premises hereinbefore described lying and being within the present corporate limits of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois; and that said lots, tracts and parcels of land shall be entitled to all the privileges and be subject to all the restrictions of Commercial District, as set forth in said ordinance.

SECTION 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed so far as they conflict herewith.

SECTION 3. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate, disobey, omit, neglect or refuse to comply with or who shall resist the enforcement of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined not less than TWENTY FIVE DOLLARS ($25.00) nor more than TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS ($200.00) for each offense. Each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION 4. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law, and shall be known as Ordinance No. 849.

Passed this 15th day of December, A. D. 1953.

CARL H. WEINRICH, Village Clerk.

Approved this 15th day of December, A. D. 1953.

ALBERT W. GOEDKE, President.

TRAINING at NPC ---- is a PERSONAL THING...

Conveniently located campus on Chicago's northwest side permits living at home—cuts expenses.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, write or call Office of Admissions (KE 9-8200). Catalog and bulletin will be gladly sent you. Or better yet, visit the campus personally.

Classes are small enough to permit a personal teacher-student relationship. Faculty members get to know you quickly—you'll sense that they're interested in you as an individual.

NPC's educational program stresses the development of your entire personality—intellectually, spiritually, socially and physically. The wide range of student activities provide many opportunities for developing talent and character.

You'll like North Park—the school where campus and classroom radiate a friendly, Christian atmosphere.

Mrs. Rita Badalamenti VA 4-2291

Feehanville School

A week ago, my phone rang from early morn till quite late in the day with calls from people who wished to tell me about the magnificent Christmas party they had attended on Friday at the Feehanville school. It was, without a doubt, the highest accolade ever paid to any PTA executive committee, or teachers Feehanville has ever known. The warm words of praise for the splendid cast in the playlet, beautifully narrated by Mrs. S. Haverkampf; the heavenly voices of the carolers, who looked so lovely in their celestial choirboy ensembles, and the sweet, nostalgic voice of Betty Messner, when she sang "Silent Night," gave me a feeling of great happiness to be able to thank publicly all the wonderful people who worked so diligently and tirelessly for months to make it a memorable occasion. The director, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, was presented a lovely corsage, as a gesture of appreciation for the many weeks she had spent working and worrying about the eventual outcome of the production.

Since there was to be no business discussion, Mrs Alma Mueller, president of the PTA, welcomed the guests as they arrived. The walls were actually bulging with the largest group in the history of the school.

Mrs. J. Remsing, clerk on the school board, is to be given a vote of thanks for her insistence on the immediate delivery of the new folding chairs which were badly needed for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Karnuth furnished and operated the movies which amused the children while refreshments were being served to the parents. Mrs. Paul Kleeman, Mrs. Viola Olson, Mrs. Stanley Haverkampf and Mrs. Rudy Gerstung were on the refreshment committee for the evening. Santa then arrived and distributed bags of candy to each child. I believe Mrs. Kleeman was the generous donor of all the candy.

A suggestion was offered by a member, to have the cast of the play and the carolers have their pictures taken in costume on January 11, when the school will have the photographers out to take all the children's pictures. It would be a memento for the school to treasure always.

I am deeply indebted to all the children who performed for the guests at the Christmas party in Forest River. Even the tiny tots gave rapt attention to the entertainers. Miss Jackie Sim was quite adorable and adept in her two tap-dance appearances, the Girl Scouts recited the oft-told, but well loved story of "The Night before Christmas," with self-made pictures simulating a huge book, the accoordionists, tiny Judy Olson, Elaine Hanson and Charles Kozel, received a great ovation for their numbers, and Mrs. Beatrice Kramer, the only grownup, accompanied by Miss Donna Huening, provided the perfect background music for the scene in the manger, "The Birth of Christ." Mary, Mother of God, was played by Sharon Anderson; Joseph, by Charles Badalamenti, and the parts of the Three Wise Men by Richard Kozel and Ronnie and Joey Cambrun.

Since the little ones can't read it is safe to say that our Santa, played so beautifully by Mrs. Rose Johnson, did much to make the legendary figure a beloved individual.

There are many gifts left by Santa for those who were unable to attend because of other engagements on the same day. As each child in the sub-division was remembered the gifts and candy too, will be saved for them. If anyone wishes, they can call for them at my home any day or evening till Christmas Eve.

Many of the people who attended the aforementioned parties were also present at the Sunday morning ceremony and Christmas program given at the Forest River church.

Now I must say, so long, till next week, and please, have a very happy Christmas season, everyone.

Rapid Comfort

In convection heating, all the air in a room passes through the convector unit several times per hour. Thus, room temperature is brought up to comfort levels in about one-fifth the time required by radiators of cast iron.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brodnan and sons were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Brodnan in honor of their son, Richard's fifteenth birthday. On Saturday evening they were invited to the Walter Schroeder home to help celebrate Larry Schroeder's 12th birthday.

Thanks a Million

Forst View Mothers' club enjoyed greatly their Christmas grab bag party at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hartman December 15. Thanks to a wonderful hostess for the use of her home. Refreshments were provided by the following: Mrs. Martha Sundblad, Mrs. Irene Sundblad, Mrs. Celia Stier, who made attractive and delicious hors d'oeuvres; cakes and cookies by Mrs. Fred Gorr, Mrs. Howard Koepke, Mrs. Ruth Grismer, Mrs. Stanley Luczak and Mrs. Kenneth Hartman; nuts, candies, etc., by the hostess. Coffee was made by Mrs. Howard Koepke. The party ended with the gift exchange. Thanks again to the hostess and all who brought refreshments for a wonderful time.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

There is no evolution of a Christmas; it is either time to open the parcel, or it is not time. And when it is time, there is such exultation and shouting and laughter as could hardly have been expected in most homes.

There are any number of theatrical limitations by which we hedge Christmas celebrations. These restraints increase rather than diminish the joys and pleasures of the season. Who enjoys a Christmas present when he knows what it will be?

So we keep secrets and follow foolish formulae of conduct to make Christmas pleasurable.

In the introduction to a group of Dickens' Christmas Stories, G. K. Chesterton remarks that there are three elements of Christmas which are excellently suggested in Dickens' stories. The first is the theatrical limitations. The second is the element of antagonism suggested by the fact that Christmas occurs in the winter.

CHRISTIANITY has preserved this out of the old pagan customs. If we are carousing and rejoicing, we are warriors carousing. "We hang above us, as it were, the shield and battle axes with which we must do battle with the giants of the snow and hail." In a defiance of nature, we find our greatest occasion for rejoicing when the world about us is least conducive to rejoicing.

The light of the world is come —just four short days after the shortest period of light in the years. Our houses which are less cheery than in brighter seasons are suddenly transformed with green trees, gay garlands, colorful cards. We worship Him who warms the hearts of men as the temperatures decline.

Christmas is not an easy celebration. Over the years, we have made it artificially difficult. Call it the quality of divine obstruction; we have hedged Christmas about with the idea that matters connected with it are a little nobler than mere comfort. We have decorated it with holly, pretty and interesting to see, but prickly.

THE THIRD IMPORTANT quality which helps make Christmas delightful while being fraught with a sense of salvation is the quality of the grotesque. It was not because they were lacking in humor that an earlier generation served a roasted boar's head with an apple in the mouth, for Christmas dinner. The most natural expression of joy is the use of the grotesque.

In beauty there is something allied to sadness; so that Pope is probably wrong when he sings, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." A thing of ugliness or of grotesque proportions is more likely to be a joy forever. Imagine Santa Claus as other than the odd little goblin we picture him to be.

When you think of it literally, the stable where the Babe was born was probably not a particularly lovely place. It is almost foolishness to imagine the shepherds of the hills (and all that their trade implies) in the same stable with wise men from the East who brought rare and valuable perfumes as gifts (perhaps not inappropriately). One of the reasons why we respond so feelingly year after year is just this disproportion of the Christmas story.

There is a word for all of this —a miracle has happened. As Paul has said, God selected the foolish things, the simple people of the world to set at nought the wise and important.

"Good Christian men, rejoice,
With heart and soul and voice;
Give ye heed to what we say,
Jesus Christ is born today."

News Of Rolling Meadows

by PAT KATKUS

Greetings! After climbing over ribbon, wrapping paper, electric trains, and Christmas presents, I met an interesting array of people.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schaub, Campbell St. had a salesman call on them a few nights ago. Well, being friendly people they allowed him to come in and present his product but, it seems their beagle dog, Becky, wasn't as friendly as his masters.

When the salesman picked up his hat to leave, he found it slightly chewed — demolished is a better way of putting it. I don't know how the poor salesman felt but, having a dog in our home I know exactly how the Schaubs felt. Mr. Schaub is working for Joseph T. Carp, the carpenter who is building the homes in Rolling Meadows. Both attended college.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ledding are originally from Minneapolis, where they attended college. Their daughter, Kathleen, will be 6 months old tomorrow, Dec. 25. Mr. Ledding is a chemical engineer, working in Morton Grove for Great Lakes Carbon. The Leddings have only been in their new home a week and are glad they got in before the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Panunzio have the most beautiful 'tree I've ever seen, a nylon flocked tree. The tree itself is a cross between a Montana Pine Balsam and a Scotch Pine, the needles are about one-half to two inches long. The tree was a gift from Mr. Gust Relias, Cicero, a friend of the Panunzios'. I was told there are only two trees of this kind in Chicago. Their two sons, Anthony, 14, and Donny, 9, were busy with an electric train and although I am no authority on electric trains it was an exceptionally realistic looking one. Mr. Panunzio owns the Cicero Avenue Fruit Store in Cicero where he sells fruit and vegetables wholesale and retail.

Isn't it just grand to settle back, look at the tree, and just relax after the whirl and swirl of Christmas preparations? Remember the real meaning of Christmas though, it's a birthday, it's CHRISTmas. Think back — on your birthday your friends wish you the best and hope you have all the happiness your heart can hold. Therefore, don't neglect to wish the Prince of Peace a "Happy Birthday." Just remember the greatest blessings in the world, whether they be spiritual or temporal, are his to bestow.

See you next week, until then, have a Holy, Happy Holiday.

National Sales Up

No Christmas This Year?

What if there were no December 25 this year?
What if people just said "hello" instead of "Merry Christmas?" What if nothing was standing in the corner but the bridge lamp and nothing hanging from the mantle
but the necktie Dad forgot to put away?
What if people sang "Crying in the Chapel"
instead of "Joy to the World?"
To really enjoy every Christmas moment,
which is our wish for you,
think what this world would be like if there had never been a Bethlehem Nativity nearly two thousand years ago.

This Week's Play Tells Tale For Women Bowlers

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

IN BASKETBALL TODAY the timer has almost as responsible a position as the referees. There are so many occasions when time is out and so many technical rules about when to start the clock in connection with jump balls, out of bounds, free throws, etc., that it takes an experienced expert to do a good job.

Whether or not a timer is an expert shows up in a close ball game where a few seconds one way or the other may mean the difference in determining the winner.

The Palatine at Grant game was one example of this. The ball was out of bounds with 10 seconds to play and both teams asked for time out. There is a question whether the referee signaled the time out. At any rate, the clock was not stopped until there was one second to play.

The clock looked like play was ended and the teams left the floor, but closer examination showed a little time remaining so they were called back and Palatine, trailing one point, threw the ball in, but the horn sounded almost immediately.

UP AT ELA-VERNON a year ago the home timer failed to start the clock at the beginning of the last quarter for at least 20 seconds. At the time this did not seem serious for Ela was leading by10 points in the frosh-soph game, but with 20 seconds to play, they were leading by three and should have been the winner had the clock started on time.

Instead, Palatine got two free throws, made the first, rebounded a missed second one in for a field goal and was fouled and made the free throw to win the game by one point.

Yes, the timer's job is important and if he is not on his toes, he can really turn out to be the goat of the ball game.

DICK SCOTT

WE STILL THINK that Coach Dick Scott's Antioch Sequoits will easily win the Northwest conference basketball championship just as we stated before the season opened. Friday's 73-28 slaughter of the Bensenville Bisons is further proof. Bensenville beat Palatine the week before and then Palatine played a one pointer on Grant's own court.

That ought to rate Antioch over Grant, who now leads the league undefeated. Fred Clarke and Warren Brownlee are starting to really blister the nets for Antioch and all-conference Ben Floyd, a great team player, is starting to get his share. Of course, little red headed Mike Haviland is always a scorer with 72 in four games for an 18 average.

TO ALL APPEARANCES, the Suburban League is weaker and more evenly matched than usual. Morton, tabbed as a real tournament threat and probably a late comer, is starting to roll. The teams which will play in the Arlington Heights sectional from the Suburban and West Suburban leagues have not looked impressive.

LaGrange will go to the Aurora sectional out of the Riverside regional. Crystal Lake looks like the best bet to advance from their own regional.

What we are working up to is that we think Barrington has the best chance in recent years to crash the state tournament.

The road to the "Sweet Sixteen" from the Arlington Heights sectional looks no tougher, if as tough as last year, and it will not surprise us if Barrington has a stronger team by tournament time. DeWitz is proving to be a sensational scorer and the team has many more good shots and the most height of any of the good Broncho teams.

LACK OF A GYM caused the postponement of the Glenbrook at Ela-Vernon game last Friday. Ela lacks only the lights, but you cannot even use a gym in the day time for practice without artificial illumination. They have been waiting a year for the fixtures. Glenbrook expects their gym to be ready the first week in January.

The problem for both schools is that their home games are are going to be bunched later in the season. On one occasion at the end of Jannuary, they will play at home on both Friday and Saturday, and another time Thursday and Saturday. That is no good from the standpoint of gate receipts.

THERE ARE TIES APLENTY in bowling leagues last week when first place teams were declared eligible for Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament at Bensenville January 10 . . . All of them will have been settled by this Saturday . . . Three loops had roll offs at Bensenville over the weekend, one at Arlington Heights, and two at Mt. Prospect.

About the only place where leaders were determined well in advance, was up in Wheeling. Maybe it's the midnight air along Milwaukee ave. that makes some bowlers go "all out" early in the season.

Arlington Beats Wauconda, 55-53

Arlington won its second round game in the Libertyville tournament Tuesday night when Wayne Mueller flipped in a basket in the final minute, 55-53. High scorer for the Cardinals was Larry Slinkard with 16 points.

A 11-5 second period in favor of Coach Lester's boys was a big help as Wauconda creeped up, 18-16 the third stanza, and 14-11 the final quarter.

McHenry won the other game and was slated to meet Heights in the championship contest Wednesday night. Wauconda met Grant in the consolation affair in the preliminary.

McHENRY, trailing 50 to 48 with 1:45 left, after Bob Bein had tallied a basket for Grant, tied the score on Ron Ford's toss, went ahead a moment later as Ford hit for another, and clinched victory on a pair of free throws by Jim Jackson with two seconds remaining.

Five Homers

Did you know the New York Giants hit five home runs in an inning in a game with Cincinnati, June 6, 1939?

Palatine Plays 'Best Game' But Loses To DuSable

The undefeated DuSable High team of Chicago found Palatine tougher than expected Tuesday night and while they beat the Pirates 63-46 were given stiff opposition all the way. The Palatine sophs lost 48-41 in a game which was closer than the score would indicate.

Coach Moylan started an all senior team of Breyer, Abramson, Hahn, Hapke, and Kolze and filled in with Eck and Schutz juniors. Ken Hahn scored 14 and Bill Breyer 13 for Palatine.

Charley Brown had 15 for the visitors who led 15-21 at the intermission. DuSable outscored the Pirates only 28-25 in the second half.

DuSable had the same starting line-up which played in last year's state tournament. All State guard, Paxton Lumpkin, was outstanding as the play maker for the colored team but could find the loop for only seven points.

Both Palatine teams came through with their best performances of the season.

Goose And Turkey Shoot At Fieldale Saturday

A New Year's goose and turkey shoot is scheduled for Fieldale Saturday, Dec. 26, with the public invited to participate. Five and ten bird events will be held, according to Paul Stroud of Arlington Heights, manager of the sports farm owned by Marshall Field & Co., southwest of Palatine.

Stroud had a fishing supply and fly tying shop in Arlington Heights for many years and has been managing Fieldale since it opened. Sportsmen wishing to go to Fieldale can drive west on route 58 to route 72, then northwest 2½ miles to approach signs and the gate to Fieldale.

Favor Elgin In Hinsdale Tourney

Four teams, including Downers Grove and Hinsdale, will compete next week in the Hinsdale Christmas basketball tournament, with play starting Tuesday night and ending Wednesday evening. Dundee and Elgin will join the West Suburban schools in the event.

Elgin has won ten games in a row on the Hinsdale court, winning the tourney in both 1950 and '51. No winner was declared last year in an experimental festival affair.

Ron Hain, senior center of Hinsdale's Red Devils, is among the leaders in West Suburban scoring. He's averaging about 25 points per contest, including 36 against Maine recently.

TOURNAMENT scoring record is held by Art Zitzka of Hinsdale who accounted for 31 points against Lemont in 1951.

Favored Tuesday and Wednesday will be Elgin Maroons, but the other three schools are all potentially strong.

Pairings:

Tuesday, December 29

Dundee vs. Hinsdale, 7:30.
Elgin vs. Downers, 8:45.

Wednesday, December 30

Tuesday losers, 7:30.
Tuesday winners, 8:45.

Seeking Games

Basketball teams in the Arlington Heights area desiring to book games on a home-and-home basis with the Joliet Bulldozers of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. are asked to write to Bob Blackburn, Employee Activities Coordinator, Caterpillar Tractor Co., Joliet, or telephone Joliet 3-0671, ext. 325.

The Bulldozers will play in the Joliet Industrial League this season, and have many open dates available.

Up To League Officers To Decide On Tourney Entrant For Bowling

Once again the question of "why can't more than one first place team from each league compete in the tournament?"

Paddock Publications' bowling tournament is an Inter-League Handicap. It pits league against league, with one team representing each league.

Legally, it is up to league officers to select their representative, but the newspapers urge first place teams to enter, refusing any part in deciding just which squad will represent any leagues.

In event some first place team does not choose to enter, either men's or women's leagues, the second place team or any other selected by league officials can compete.

Deadline for men's entries is Saturday, December 26. Deadline for women's entries is Saturday, January 2. The men's tournament will be held at Bensenville January 10, the women's at Palatine January 17.

Wheeling 'Hawks Beat Palatine And Richmond

Wheeling Blackhawks won their fifth and sixth games of the year when they beat Palatine, 59-39, and Richmond, 38-29. Last Friday evening the Hawks won their first game at Arlington Heights this season when they downed Palatine.

Wheeling jumped to a quick 14 to 4 lead in the first quarter and led at the half 26 to 15. The Hawks' attack was paced by George Newman with 12 points.

In the second half, Jim Pinkstaff spear-headed the Hawks' attack, that netted the locals 33 points, with 8 markers. Newman was the individual leader with 16 points on 7 field goals and 2 free throws. Wheeling's Pinkstaff and Palatine's Wickersham were runner-ups with 11 points apiece.

THE HAWKS traveled to Richmond, Ill., Sunday and wound up on the long end of a 38-29 score, when they beat the Richmond Zephyrs. In an unusually low scoring contest, the locals trailed 9-6 at the quarter and 20-15 at the half.

In the third period of play, the Hawks evened the score, when they outscored Richmond 9 points to 6, at 24 all. Paced by Hans Schmidt's 7 points in the final quarter, Wheeling pulled away for 38-29 victory. Schmidt and Rich Jacobson of Richmond were the scoring leaders with 8 points each.

Crisler Would Curb Tie Games On Gridiron

Fritz Crisler, University of Michigan's able athletic director, has a plan to offset the trend toward ties on the gridiron, reports the Sporting News.

1. An extra point scored on a kick will continue to carry a one-point value.

2. A point scored by either a run or pass will count two points

Men's Entries Must Be In By Saturday Night

The crucial week is at hand for women bowlers of the area, with first place teams as of this Saturday night, December 26, eligible for Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament at Hi-Way Recreation, Palatine, January 17.

Men's teams have already been determined. They'll compete for honors Sunday, January 10, at Trausch-Linden Recreation in Bensenville.

But for the women the final week of play began last Thursday night, with Christmas stopping league play Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

TWENTY-TWO men's teams were already enrolled for their tournament as of Tuesday of this week with at least 33, possibly 40, league representatives expected.

Notable among these is Dreyer Electric of the Palatine House league which went into a two game lead Friday night.

In Palatine Sportsman's league Union Hotel displaced Bel-Mar long enough to make the tourney, then dropped back a game-and-a-half for regular league play Monday night.

Our Lady of the Wayside league of Arlington Heights had three teams tied for first place with total pins determining the tourney entrant.

WEDNESDAY LADIES league of Arlington Heights had New Emerald Cleaners and Arlington Pharmacy tied for the lead prior to Wednesday night's play of this week. Back just 1½ games were Eleanor's Bakery and Krause & Kehe.

First complete entry from the women was received from the Jinx league in Palatine where Krueger's Tavern is the leader. Sixteen or more teams are expected in the women's affair January 17.

There aren't many tournaments for women bowlers. The Paddock meet met with quick acceptance last year with the handicap evening competition a great deal.

JUST HOW MUCH the winner in the men's tournament will have to bowl is questionable. Last year Black's Funeral Home of the Arlington Heights Lions league rolled 833-892-811, plus 500 handicap, to take top honors with 3036. The winner's team average was just 718, proving any team can get hot and take the tournament.

An average of about 762 will be given the limit on handicap. Official times and handicaps will be published next week.

The year before Haseman Truckers of Palatine House league, with an 875 average, took first place but rolled only 866-869-881-2716 plus 263 handicap for 2979 to do it.

In other words any team able to gross 3,000 could take the tournament.

LEAGUES ELIGIBLE to enter the tournament are those within the immediate area served by Paddock Publications, including those bowling at Wheeling Bowling Lanes, Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes, Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes, Hi-Way Recreation at Palatine, Bowlwood Recreation at Wood Dale and Trausch-Linden Recreation at Bensenville.

Team entry fees for both men's and women's teams are $15 with official entry blanks available either at the alleys or at the Paddock office in Arlington Heights. Posters at the alleys give other details of the tournament.

Handicap for men will be determined by 70% of the difference between a team's average and 1,000 with a 500 pin limit. For the women it will be the team average against 875, also 500 pin limit.

Big Quarters Give Heights Frosh-Sophs Two Victories

Uncle Sam's money paid off Friday and Saturday nights for the Arlington Heights frosh-soph cagers when two big quarters each evening brought victories to otherwise dark nights. The varsity lost to Glenbard and Riverside-Brookfield but the sophomores won, 56-40 and 51-48.

At Glenbard Friday night the second and fourth periods were magic for Coach Maurice Klotz' sophomores. Saturday night it was the second and third.

The victories kept Arlington just one game behind the leaders, LaGrange and York, in West Suburban league play.

AGAINST GLENBARD the young Cardinals had a hot second quarter with eight baskets. Randag and Sujack each counted three with Striegel getting two. Glenbard tallied just eight points, ten less. Final segment saw Heights make good on nine charities to win going away, 17-11.

Those two margins of ten and six points provided the winning lead. Randag accounted for 17 points, Sujack 16. Striegel made 11, Ashley six free throws. Pond was high for the losers with 13 scores.

COACH KLOTZ lost a bit more hair in the final quarter against Riverside when the visitors outpointed his boys, 22-5. Luckily the locals had a 20 point margin going into that period. Final score was 51-48.

Fifteen and 21 points the second and third periods gave the young Cardinals the lead that was used to advantage. Two buckets by Sujack the second period, with Malzahn, Randag, Seich and Haemker garnering one apiece helped.

Ashley came through in the third segment with three buckets and four free throws to lead a personal campaign, Sujack and Striegel getting a pair of baskets apiece. In free throws Heights hit .704, good enough to win any ball game. R-B made good on 18 of 44 for .409.

Up in Palatine in the fast House league, Hank Dreyer's electric boys, who whipped Haseman Truckers the week earlier three times to go into a tie, won three while the former champs dropped two . . . At any rate, there's plenty of excitement around the bowling alleys, the true purpose of the tournament in addition to helping sell papers.

AGAIN IT LOOKS LIKE the West Suburban is too tough for Arlington Heights in basketball. They lost to Glenbard and Riverside this past week end, rated as second division teams. They have not played Hinsdale and York, rated as next to LaGrange, the strongest.

So it looks like Arlington will join the other local schools, Palatine and Bensenville, with second division, losing ball clubs this season. All three have 1-3 conference records as league ball terminates for the Christmas holidays.

JANUARY 2 there is a high school game we would like to see. LaGrange plays at Moline. There seem to be no teams in the Chicago area this year which can come close to LaGrange. In fact, these 85-45 type of scores the Lyons township boys are registering, does not indicate the difference in the teams.

Playing Moline is something else. Moline drubbed Thornton several weeks ago, doubling the score in a team rated among the best in the suburbs, aside from LaGrange. One of the problems for LaGrange is having so many games. Moline will not be of that variety.

Card Wrestlers Whip Niles

Arlington wrestlers found the boys from Niles much to their liking Friday afternoon in the home gym and came through with two victories, 33-13 for the varsity and 48-8 for the frosh-sophs.

The double meet was the first for Arlington's new 24x24 mat, the second now in possession of the athletic department. Arlington is now equipped to run a double meet with ease.

Outstanding bit of wrestling was the final event of the evening when Dave Brant pinned visiting Kucher of Niles with smoothness unequalled in any of the other matches.

GAINING PINS for Coach Dick Mudge's frosh-sophs were Gregory Pat and Mickey Harris, Wille, Ebert, Rose, Pratchen, Wickstrom and Klehm.

Next match for the Heights squad is Saturday night, January 2, with Waukegan. This match will provide local fans with an opportunity to view the non-TV version of the sport. No admission will be charged.

Palatine Frosh Win And Lose

Palatine's frosh basketeers coached by Charley Feutz finished play for the Christmas holidays by losing to a very good Grant team, 37-21. Grant had a 27-7 lead at the half and used subs after the opening quarter. McKlung had eight points for Palatine, Gronland nine for Grant.

Last Wednesday Palatine frosh won at Wauconda 31-20. Swanson had 13 points and Breyer seven for the Pirates. Weinberg's six was best for the losers. Palatine led 17-4 at the half.

LAST WEEK Saturday Palatine lost a high scoring 52-46 decision at Bensenville. Palatine made 45% of their field goal shots but the Bisons got always twice as many shots at the basket. Both teams were poor on free throws as Palatine got 12 out of 35 and Bensenville 16 of 47. Five boys left the game on fouls.

Palatine led 17-13 the first quarter but trailed 32-27 at the half as the Bisons led the rest of the way. Fred Swanson made nine from the field and four free throws for 22 of the Palatine points. Wayne Langgeth, Bensenville center, scored six and six for 18 points.

In other games to date Palatine has beaten Ela-Vernon 23-18 and Arlington Heights 26-21 while losing to Grayslake 30-16 for an over all record to date of three wins and three losses. Fred Swanson, who has been scoring a third of the Palatine frosh points, was moved up to the frosh-soph team last week and did not play against Grant Saturday.

Bisons Fall To Antioch, 73-28

Antioch's championship conscious Sequoits lowered the boom on Bensenville's Bisons Friday night 73-28 at Antioch Coach Scott's boys shot over the Bison zone and went through it almost at will. They rolled up a 34-9 count on a team which the week before had shown such finesse over Palatine and held a 57-23 mark in going into the final quarter.

Bensenville had a slow night from the field getting only seven field goals. Ken Sirotski, the most consistent Bison scorer this season, cashed in with 10 points while Billy Long had seven. Fred Clarke got 24, Ben Floyd 16, Warren Brownlee 11, and Mike Haviland eight for Antioch.

Bein's Free Throw Gives Grant 47-46 Victory Over Palatine

Bob Bein's free throw with 30 seconds to play gave Grant a 47-46 win over Palatine at Fox Lake Friday night and kept the Bulldogs on top in the Northwest conference with four straight victories. The Grant sophs also won an easy 45-27 victory to keep pace with the varsity as leaders of their division of the conference.

Palatine never led in the varsity game but was always within striking distance. Whenever they made a bid to narrow the gap Bill Grenell, Grant's play maker and consistent scorer, came through with the points to maintain the advantage.

The Grant team led 16-13 and pulled away to their greatest lead, 34-26, at half time due mainly to the scoring of Lambert. In the third period Pete Abramson led a Palatine offense which narrowed the count to 42-41 and thereafter it was anyone's ball game. Still Palatine did not tie the score until the final period had only a minute to go. Then Bill Breyer sank the first of eight free throws to make the score 46-all.

GRANT STALLED and worked the ball for a sure basket. Finally Bob Bein drove in and was fouled. He made the first and missed the second, but Grant got the rebound and prevented Palatine from getting a chance to win or tie. The ball went to Palatine out of bounds with 10 seconds to play and both teams called time out, but the timer did not get a signal and the clock ran to one second to play before it was stopped.

Palatine had only a throw in when the horn sounded the end of the game. It was certainly the most exciting final period of any league game played this season and by far the best game Palatine has played. Bill Grenell scored 20 for Grant. Breyer had 13 and Eck and Abramson 11 for Palatine.

IN THE FROSH-SOPH contest Palatine was no match for the accurate shooting and good ball handling of the Grant sophomores who took a 20-7 lead at the half and coasted in a 45-27 winner.

Palatine substitutes scored more than half the team points. Pete Trenchard was high with seven points for Palatine. Parr had 10 and Edmundson and Neuman eight apiece for Grant.

Wauconda Defeats Grayslake Five, 45-29

Wauconda was outscored from the field by a scrappy Grayslake five Friday night but made 22 free throws to take a 64-51 victory. Wauconda gained a 29-21 first half lead and were on top all the way.

Balanced scoring paid off for the Bulldogs as Jaskot got 15, Punches and Bass 14 each, and Nolan nine. Ron Christen kept the Rams in the ball game with 10 field goals for 20 points. Wally Giernoth scored 11.

Baltimore 'Big League' Now In Three Sports

Baltimore, as a major league city, points out the Sporting News, can now boast of Big Time ranking in three major sports — baseball (American league), football (National league) and basketball (National Association). The only other cities that can make the same claim are New York and Philadelphia.

Arlington Beats Lake Forest In Holiday Tourney

Arlington Heights defeated Lake Forest, 67 to 52, to start the Libertyville Holiday Invitational tournament Monday in Libertyville. Dennis Maher and Bob Turner paced the victors with 15 and 14 points respectively, although Ted Olson of Lake Forest took scoring honors with 21 points.

Arlington used its height advantage to pull away in the second quarter to a 32 to 18 half time lead. Lake Forest used an all-court press, but to little avail, as the taller team kept control of the back boards.

The Cardinals' offense bgan to look like one as the locals scored 13, 19, 14 and 21 points in the four quarters. They made .576 percentage at the free throw line, an improvemnt over some previous performancs.

West Aurora Trims Palatine

Saturday night before a slim crowd West High of Aurora, a member of the Big Eight conference, defeated Palatine in both ends of a doubleheader, 77-53, in the varsity game and 46-36 with the frosh-sophs. It was the fifth straight double defeat Palatine has suffered in their new gymnasium.

In a slam bang wild running game West High ran up the record score of the season at Palatine. The Aurora team played a pressing defense making the game a wide open, all court affair, and took advantage of Pirate misplays to run up a 16-4 lead in the first quarter.

Thereafter Palatine's playing improved. Aurora led, 32-19, at the half and increased their lead to 42-19 before Pete Abramson and Ken Hahn found the range and started a Palatine drive which netted 16 points. Going into the final period the Pirates trailed, 55-35, and scored 18 to Aurora's 21 in the final segment.

MIKE COSENTINO, who entered the West High lineup in the last half, was their high scorer with 19 points on four field goals and 11 out of 12 free throws. Pete Abramson topped the Palatine point totals with 19 on seven field goals in 19 shots and five out of eight free throws. Bill Breyer scored 11 for Palatine.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Inordinate; immoderate; excessive. "We must not allow our love of pleasure to become inordinate."

Cynical; disbelieving in the sincerity of human motives. "Why should she take such a cynical view of life?"

Credible; capable or worthy of being believed. "His story does not seem credible."

Discretion; cautious and correct judgment. (Pronounce the e as in bet). "He should use more discretion in managing his employees."

Resplendent; shining with brilliant luster. "He was resplendent with medals."

Proclivity; natural disposition or tendency. "The boy has a proclivity to steal."

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When a woman is preparing to leave her home within a few minutes, and a caller arrives unexpectedly, what should the woman do?

A. She should not hesitate to tell her guest she has an appointment, but that she hopes her guest can stay a few minutes anyway.

Q. At a widow's second marriage her first husband being deceased, should she invite the family of her first husband?

A. Yes, indeed, if the relationship has always been pleasant. And furthermore, these people should make every effort to attend.

Q. Is it good manners for a girl to ask her escort for a cigarette?

A. This is quite all right. An attentive escort should, of course, make such a request unnecessary, but should he be forgetful enough, it is perfectly proper for the girl to make the request.

Q. When invited to join a group in some sport you have never played, but which you would like to try, what should you do?

A. First, be frank to admit that you have never played the sport. Then, if they insist upon your joining them anyway, it is quite all right to take part.

Q. What is the proper length of time for a young woman to wear mourning for her father?

A. This depends entirely upon her feelings in the matter. The custom of wearing mourning is not so strict as it formerly was. Many people do not consider it necessary at all.

Q. When a man is registering at a hotel for himself, his wife and their sixteen-year old daughter, how should he sign?

A. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fulton, Miss Betty Fulton.

Q. If two women friends have always remembered each other's wedding anniversary with cards, and one's husband has passed away, should the other woman continue the practice?

A. It would be much more tactful not to do so.

Q. Is it obligatory to send a gift when one is notified of the birth of a baby?

A. It is not obligatory, but it is customary to do so.

Q. If a man and a woman are walking together during a rain, and both have umbrellas, should each one use his own umbrella?

A. This might prove awkward. It would be much better if both were to walk under the man's larger umbrella.

Winter's the Time for Removing Unwanted Trees from Homes

Few home owners realize it, but this is the ideal season for removing dead, dying, dangerous or unwanted trees.

The condition of these trees won't improve with spring. And it is much simpler to remove them while they are dormant, while gardens are abandoned and while lawns are fairly firm or, in northern regions, solidly frozen.

In spring and summer, the problem of tree removal is complicated by growing vegetation all around. The tree surgeon may spend as much time protecting lawns, shrubs and flower gardens as in the actual removal process.

Winter removal requires skill and care, too, but the task is easier and usually less expensive than at other times, especially the twin chores of clean up and disposal, according to L. V. Newton, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Although dangerous trees may appear less hazardous without their leaf burdens, these trees are the first to succumb to winter storms, with ice, snow or howling winds to batter them.

If there is any doubt as to the safety of dormant trees, the best and cheapest insurance is to consult a qualified tree expert. He can diagnose a hibernating tree's condition as well as when it is in full leaf.

And, if removal is needed, he can eliminate the risk of falling trees when winter gales are raging.

Veterans' School At Crane High

The veterans' division of Crane technical high school is celebrating its eighth year this month. The school, located at 2245 W. Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, crossing Oakley Boulevard, is conveniently located for transportation by bus or street car. A year or two ago, Schurz and Tilden veteran centers were transferred to Crane high school, making this the only academic public high school available to veterans under the G. I. Bills. Under these, the men are paid a subsistence to take training.

Veterans may attend school five hours a day, five days a week, from 8:30 to 2:30, or from 10:30 to 4:00 o'clock.

Lack Of Baskets Stops Arlington In Losses To Glenbard, Riverside

Arlington cagers found Tom Peters too much for them Friday night and lost at Glenbard, 59-40. An 18-7 second quarter provided the insurmountable lead as Peters' ten points out-totaled the Cards' mark for the period by three. The ace point getter for the Cards scored seven buckets, 11 charities for 25 points.

A slow opening quarter found Heights on the short end of a 10-8 score which stretched to 28-15 at intermission. Wayne Mueller hit for two baskets the first period, otherwise it was Turner and Slinkard scoring just once each quarter.

And that ratio held through the rest of the game with Riggs and Maher sinking one apiece the third frame, and Skelton and Rog Thomas doing the same the closing period. Skelton did his part with five free throws the final quarter.

NEXT NIGHT, with the locals home again and host to Riverside-Brookfield, the story was about the same with the Cardinals scoring six and nine points the initial periods. Final score was a close 49-45, Riverside.

Slinkard tallied two field goals the first quarter, Turner and Riggs hitting for one apiece the second.

From then on Arlington kept almost even with R-B. Mueller and Maher scored thrice apiece the third period, and Turner and Slinkard twice each the fourth. Actually, Heights won from the field, 36-34, but a poorer percentage at the free line of .375 compared to R-B's .484 more than made up the difference.

Larry Slinkard accounted for eleven points for Coach Howard Lester, while both Bob Turner and Wayne Mueller scored ten points each.

Alston On The Spot With Dodgers In Spite Of What General Manager Said

A great deal has been said about the spot upon which Walter Emmons Alston, the veteran minor league manager who has been elevated to the post of piloting the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers, has been placed by that appointment.

In this "X-marks-the-spot" business, The Sporting News has joined the commentators—perhaps preceded many of them—by stressing the burning ambition of Walter Francis O'Malley, boss of the Brooks, for his club to win a World's Series.

IT IS BECAUSE of this O'Malley state of mind that it is alleged that Alston is on the spot if he wins the 1954 pennant and then loses the World's Series—and this allegation is being made despite anything and everything that O'Malley said at the time he gave Alston the big job.

Now, about this Brooklyn team, whose excellance is considered so great that it "can't miss" winning the 1954 pennant. The Sporting News brings up the question whether it will be as good next year as it was in 1953—and perhaps that is a fair question.

Can Roy Campanella repeat—or come close to repeating—his extraordinary 1953 performance of a high batting average, runs batted in and home runs?

CAN CARL FURILLO again approach the batting average that made him the league's batting champion in 1953?

Can Billy Cox continue to be the league's best third baseman and match the highest batting average of his major league career?

Cox, Furillo, Hodges and Snider achieved the highest averages of their careers, points out the Sporting News, and their combined increase in 1953 over the previous season was 210 points. That's quite a mark to shoot at in 1954.

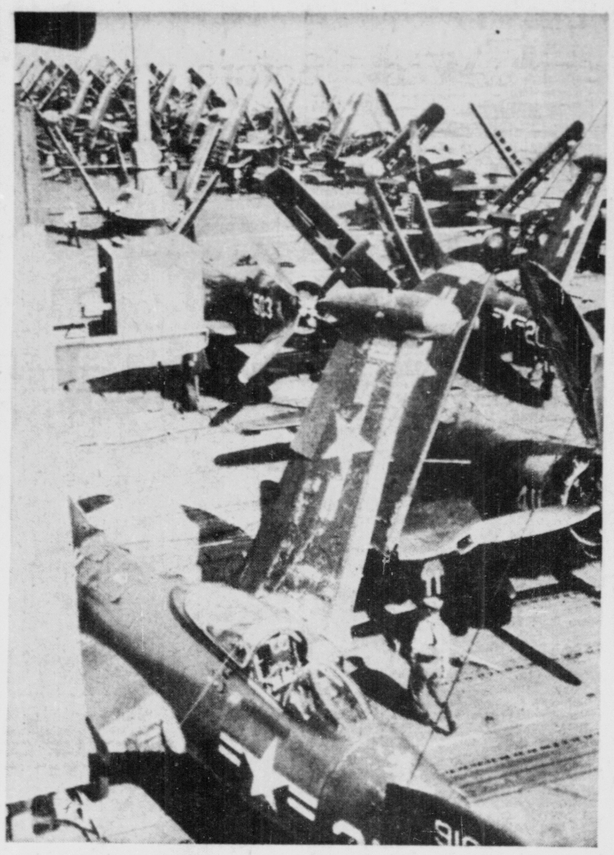
BARRINGTON TRUCKING CO.

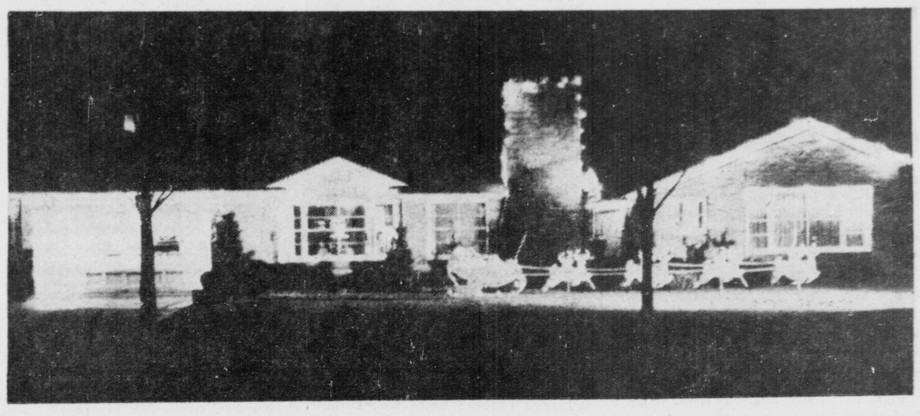
Santa Claus was kept plenty busy in Wheeling Saturday when more than 200 youngsters stopped by at the fire station to tell him what they wanted for Christmas. The photographer stopped by just as he was giving oranges to Kenny and Carol Schlapa, sitting on his lap, and little Jeffery Miller, 15 month old son of the Arthur L. Millers. —Staff Photo.



The Bennington carried 35 of these Banshee jet planes. It was customary for them to leave on their long distance missions between three and five o'clock in the morning. Their sister ships, the props, parked nearer the fantail of the ship, left on other morning flights or were moved forward in time to clear the landing deck for the return of the jets.

Major servicing of planes is accomplished on the hangar deck, where also is located a large machine shop. Special hoists and cranes bring up from lower decks the spare engines. It is seldom that a plane is so badly damaged that it has to be sent back to the states for repair.

This scene is traditional at 514 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, which is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pedersen. For many years they had two deer peeking out from behind evergreens, but the last few years they have used only one deer, whose name must be "Rudolph," as he has a very red nose. —Staff Photo.



Santa and his reindeer enhance the front lawn of the Charles Dean home at 411 E. Orchard, Arlington Heights. Christmas lights also outline the front of the house to make it a very picturesque scene. —Staff Photo.

Santa's lap was well filled Saturday and Sunday when he came to Mount Prospect to help the scouts of Troop 23 sell their Christmas trees. Santa took time out to tell one group of youngsters a Christmas story. Sitting on his lap were Cheryl Scheffers and Charles Stiefbold. Others standing in front are Jean Ward, Leslie Brownell, and Robby Mott. In back are scouts of Troop 23, Bill Busby, Bob Sbarbaro and Ronnie Marks. —Staff Photo.

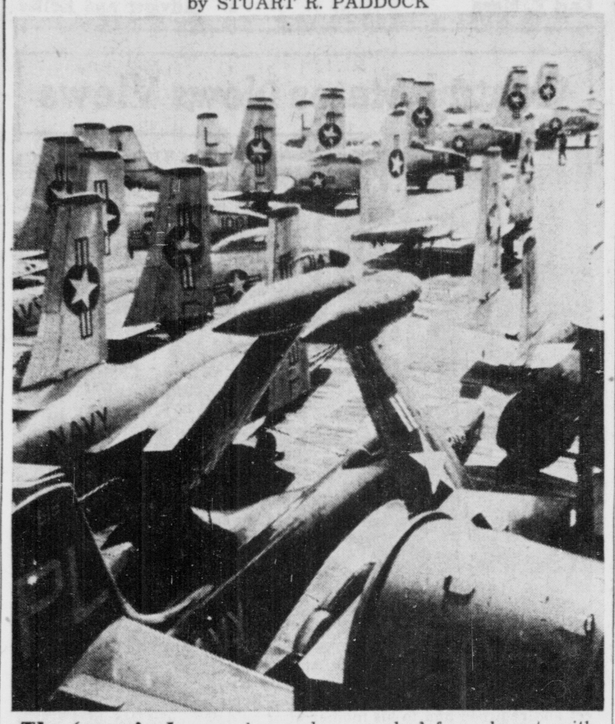
Editor Tells Story of 'Five Weeks Before the Mast'

by STUART R. PADDOCK



The 'prop' planes shown above, parked four abreast, with raised wings, shows how it is possible for the Carrier Bennington to store over 70 planes upon its flight deck. The cylinders at the end of the wings of some of the planes contain reserve fuel supply.

Navy Hospital Facilities

Thirteenth Installment

Folks at home need have no worry about hospital facilities provided on navy ships, especially on a ship as large as the airplane carrier Bennington. Sick bay is as ready to bandage a sprained wrist as it is to perform an appendix operation.

Naturally, with 3,000 men on board, there are bound to be accidents and illnesses of various kinds. There is a sixty bed hospital with all the required surgical, X-ray treatment and examining facilities that are required in a good hospital.

There are four ship doctors, two surgical and two physicians, and thirty trained hospital corpsmen, some of whom are on duty around the clock.

In case of an accident on the flight deck, there is no waiting to "call a doctor." He is there waiting, and the hospital is only two flights down. There is also no waiting for properly sterilized instruments. There are a sufficient number for any operation packed in large and small packages. The selection of the package depends upon the nature of the coming operation.

Some of the finest hospital equipment is to be found on this ship. Twice during this cruise patients have been transferred from destroyers to USS Bennington. Likewise, cases that require considerable treatment are transferred to other ships which are on their way home. Because of the close quarters in which sailors live, no chance can be taken to jeopardize their health.

On an inspection visit to the sick bay, the editors found one of their number in a lower bunk—seasickness, while there were one or two others who had narrow escapes from similar confinement.

There is usually a waiting line when sick bay opens at 8:30 every morning. However, hospital corpsmen handle the majority of the cases. Among these corpsmen who acted as our guide through the hospital, John Loupos, hospital man 3rd class, a red-headed Greek who the boys say is very competent. It is he who gives the "once over" to a large number in the daily sick call. He is also in charge of the operation room and directs the scrubbing, once, twice and sometimes three times, to make certain that the operation room is in readiness. He may not have a nurse's diploma, but he assists the surgeon performing the operation.

Great as are the hospital facilities on this ship, sailors have another guess coming who think that while they are in the navy they will have some chronic condition corrected. The navy is too busy to handle cases that a sailor brought with him when he entered the navy.

An "oldster" in the medical department is Earl Barton Cameron, hospitalman chief, who is nearing sixty years. He first saw service with the U. S. marines in Nicaraugua in 1911. Between wars he is a practicing attorney, but when the navy again asked for his services in July 1950, he did not say, "I am too old." He wants to do his part in protecting the life and limb of the boys who are doing the fighting today.

We editors were also taken behind the scenes in the dental department, the staff of which includes three dentists. Bridge work and dentures when necessary are made in the laboratory by expert technicians.

Rabid Dogs

After hearing about all the rabid dogs, rabid foxes, rabid skunks, etc., I cannot understand why Illinois does not have a law requiring all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies.

A rabies shot does not hurt a dog in the least, and it is not expensive. Every year our dog gets his rabies shot, and he proudly wears his tag showing that he has had this shot.

We are newcomers to this state and are much concerned that Illinois is so very far behind other states in this matter. We are concerned about our children, there are so many dogs running loose.

Another thing that does not make sense to us. Some time ago, a rabid fox bit a man at Deer Grove park. The park was not closed because "there must be two rabid foxes before a park can be closed." Does that make sense to you? It certainly makes us wonder what kind of people are running these things.

Even after this rabid fox was found in Deer Grove park, Palatine teachers took school children to this park, explaining that if the children didn't bother a fox or other animal, it would not bite them. This is absolutely untrue, a rabid animal WILL attack a human being or other animal.

I know that newspapers can do a great deal to bring about needed laws, and can bring to the attention of the people things that need to be done, and the people will read and think. This is why I am writing to you. Will you please in some way bring this to the attention of the people in our community.

Mother and taxpayer.

Bowling Scores

Instead of using the space for an uninteresting tabulation of "names and numbers," Jack Speed might suggest that his boss present a few teams each week complete with pictures of members, their averages, hobbies, most thrilling experience in bowling, etc.

A staff writer could be assigned to do these write-ups and should be able to prepare copy so the hypesetter can distinguish between Nielhauff and Neilhorst or Feller and Fittes.

What do you think, bowlers? Would you rather have a few names appear each week spelled correctly and in a type size that encourages reading instead of the present "stock market quotation" layout employed?

Thank You

It is with deep appreciation that I write you this letter. Your very generous publicity, in the Palatine Enterprise, of our Palatine high school Christmas music festival, helped us to have very good attendance (almost a completely "full house") in Cutting Hall. We are grateful for a great growth of interest by the community in our school music schedule, which, of course, strengthens the program itself.

I hope I shall have the pleasure of thanking you in person in the near future.

Village Manager

Despite inclement weather, the last Arlington Heights Village board meeting was well attended. It was apparent the majority of the people were present because of the village manager plan.

During the meeting, it was brought out that certain members of our village board have been considering the idea of hiring a village manager by ordinance for the past six months During this time, the board had ample time for studying all phases of the matter. The citizens of our village, however, were appraised of this plan only three weeks prior to the time the village board decided to vote on the issue.

With all due respect to our editor, who generally does a commendable job of news coverage, we feel his news covering the village manager plan by ordinance, prior to the last village board meeting, was very biased. We like to read our editor's editorials but we think we should get our news coverage "straight." When we first read about the village manager plan by ordinance, we were quite impressed and inpulsively answered one of our trustees' requests for public opinion in a favorable vein. Since that time, however, many unfavorable angles have come to light, and we have reversed our opinions.

THE CHAIRMAN of the women's advisory group presented the village board with petitions signed by 1,196 citizens, objecting to the village maanger plan by ordinance and demanding a referendum. The names on these petitions were obtained in less than four days' time and comprised at least 25% of the total vote cast at last spring's village election. If this group of women could gather that percentage of voters' objections in less than four days, we can't help but wonder what percentage of voters would have signed if more time had been allotted.

Why the rush about putting through a village manager by ordinance? Why not give the public the opportunity of calmly sitting down and fairly evaluating all the pros and cons? One of our trustees announced at the meeting that only a well trained, experienced man would be considered. In the next breath he told us this man would only be kept on a month-to-month basis, and that he could be fired at any time by the board.

Doesn't common sense tell us it would be impossible for the village of Arlington Heights to hire a worthy village manager on these terms? Any man hired on these precarious terms, with no sense of security, would certainly be wide open to temptation. Despite the fact he would be limited to spending not more than $500.00 on any one item, the opportunities for temptation would be numerous. What capable, well-trained man worth his salt would be willing to take over a job like this on less than a two-year contract? It would seem to us that any man our village would hire on these insecure terms would be pretty hard up for a job.

WE AGREE our village board is overburdened with many petty problems and we think they are in need of help. What's wrong with the idea of filling that long-delayed position of commissioner of public works? This position was created and passed on long ago, and a certain sum of money has been set aside on each yearly budget for the job, but nobody was ever hired to fill it.

Surely, if we hired a commissioner of public works, our village board would be relieved of much of its burdens and would have the time to devote to more important village matters. This, in turn, would do away with the burning resentment now raging. This resentment will bring no good and will only result in chaos.

Wouldn't it only be fair play to allow the citizens of Arlington Heights more time to form their true opinions? As a democracy, aren't we entitled to more time? We think the village manager plan by ordinance is filled with too many evils and that if a commissioner of public works was hired, everybody would be happier. Perhaps the majority of the people of our village feel we are now or will soon be ready for a village manager by referendum. Let the people decide these issues.

PLEASE, let's all have a Merry Christmas and look forward to a Happy New Year, with the hope our editor will give us our news unbiased, straight from the shoulder, and with the hope our village board will not ignore signed petitions of at least 25% of the voters.

Let's forget about a village manager, either by ordinance or by referendum, until some future time when we all know more about what is involved! Let's fill that long-delayed job of Commissioner of Public Works now, thereby making our village trustees a less-burdened group of men, and let's all enjoy the Holiday Season

Let's hope our village board sees fit not to rush swiftly into something so bitterly resented by so many people.

Mr. and Mrs.
Leslie R. Grant

Help With Toys

Girls of the Heights Catholic High club wish to thank the children of St. James school and all others who donated used toys for the underprivileged children of the Cordi-Marian Settlement.

Hundreds of dolls, games, books and other toys were repaired to look like new. They were given to the children at a Christmas party planned for them on December 19 by the members of the club.

We also wish to thank Mr. John Randag of the Homo Milk Co. for the use of a truck to transport the toys, and all the mothers who worked with the girls, and of course, Gene Dassenville who was Santa Claus.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Megan was four years old on the sixteenth. It's so trite to say, but it really is unbelieveable that on a wintry night, four years ago last Tuesday, Bob and I drove to the hospital through the deserted streets of the town, and about three hours after arriving became the parents of a baby girl. How did that tiny baby get to be such a grown up little girl in so short a time?

Merry Christmas

To be born nine days before Christmas, and have birthday parties overlooked because of the holiday rush would be unfair, but to be born nine days before Christmas and have your birthday presents and Christmas presents combined would be downright cruel!

I PROMISED MEGAN the day she was born that this would never happen, consequently she's celebrated her birthday, in the midst of the red and green holiday season, with a pink and white party and presents every year so far.

The guest list, up to this year, included only Gramma, Grampa, the uncles and Mama, Daddy and Bridget (who was included for the first time last year). However, this year Mrs. Conder (Megan's good friend, and companion when Mama and Daddy are away for the evening) was also among the party guests.

I HAD DECIDED that since we are going to Indianapolis the Monday before Christmas, to stay until the following Sunday, we should have our Christmas tree up early. So on the Tuesday before Megan's birthday, we went shopping for a pale pink tree—to work in with the birthday decor, of course. I had a bit of a shock when the florist, who had just the tree we wanted in his window, told me that the little ones were five dollars and they went up from there! I settled for one small two dollar branch to use for my table decoration.

Fortunately, I remembered some kind of canned "snow" to be sprayed on trees, etc., in the ten cent store, so we went there to investigate. What a delight to find a can marked "pink."

OUR NEXT STOP was the Christmas tree lot, where we found a nice little table model for two dollars. To make a long story short, we got the tree home, set it up and started to spray. The color that came out of that can was like nothing you've ever seen before! It was neither red nor pink, but a loud, shocking something in between! I knew what I had to do, and back to the store I went to purchase a can of "white."

The final outcome wasn't too bad. I sprayed the tree with the strange color, then went over it with white, and somehow the tree came out with just a faint, pink cast to it. We used only white lights and pink and blue ornaments, and hung a filmy haze of "angel hair" over it all. For the birthday table I used four large, pink candles with sprigs from the pink-coated branches and tiny pink ornaments.

ON THE MORNING of her birthday, Megan ran into the living room to find her housekeeping set with its broom, dust mop, carpet sweeper, scrub brushes, pail and various soaps and cleansers. Nearby was the combination peg and hammer and nail table. The whole day was filled with surprises. About 10:30 in the morning, the florist came with a musical carousel filled with pink garnet roses from Gramma and Grampa.

After her nap, Megan discovered another present from Mama and Daddy—a white nylon petticoat with rows of lace around the bottom, and matching panties. It was prettier than any under garment she'd ever seen, and I had a little difficulty getting her to put her dress on over it.

GRAMMA ARRIVED late in the afternoon and Daddy and Grampa came after work. While the guests sipped punch, Megan, with Bridget's help, opened her presents. Among them were a bride doll, puzzles, doll furniture, books, "Jo" of the "Little Women" dolls, and a darling, bright red and blue, hand woven in Belgium skirt and dainty white blouse. As you know, we own a movie camera, need I say more? The evening's event, from the opening of the presents to the blowing out of the birthday cake candles, were amply recorded.

Just one more thing, dear—our little family wants to wish you and your family a very happy Christmas and the best of all good things during the coming year.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

All week long we have been gravely pondering on the objections to Arlington's one way streets. It is our understanding that the town's business men claim that it is bad for business. We have gone round in our minds trying to dredge up a reason for this statement.

So, we went to a source of information who happens to be an acquaintance of ours and were told that these good men were worried over people having to drive around a block to find a parking space. Ha. Surely they can remember back in the good old days when one circled not only one block trying to find a place to light but went round and round like an airliner trying to find a place to sit down with a zero ceiling.

If anyone knows of a good psychiatrist, put us on to him. We pulled the best lulu we have maneuvered in years. We took all of our fry, large and small, shopping with us. Whee. Our intention started out to be strictly honorable. We were taking them to do their shopping. The sidetracking part of the deal came when we saw some things that we wanted to buy them for the big day.

They were sent off to the toy department while we enlisted the hasty aid of a perfectly delightful clerk to get the gifts boxed and out of sight. We had reckoned without the instincts of the young. They know when they aren't wanted hence stuck closer to us than scotch tape.

The poor clerk spent her time acting as camouflage by leaning tiredly all over our selections. If her boss had caught a glimpse of her, she would have been sent home as not being well or too weary of it all.

This was not enough for us as we are a stupid soul who must be hit on the head before we get a point. The very next day, mind you, we took our oldest fry with us figuring in our fuzzy mind that she had reached the age of reason and we could get our shopping done without her breathing down our neck. There was fallacy in our thinking.

Just as we would make a selection, her piping voice would grate on our ears with such momentous questions as "What are we going to do tomorrow?" This time we did the draping of ourselves all over the counters causing untold merriment among the weary shoppers. We are glad their day was made brighter by our antics.

Our head is bloody but unbowed as from a welter of ribbon, boxes, tags and tinsel and small ones with big secrets, we wish you the very merriest Christmas ever.

Season's Greetings

May happiness and good health be yours throughout this Christmas season.

Economist Gives Views On Future Farm Prices

An agricultural economist at the University of Illinois today, in giving his views on future farm prices, says that any talk of a return to prewar prices—1938-1940 levels—is "simply silly."

L. J. Norton says that during the next five years he expects the farm price index to work within the range of 225-280 per cent of 1910-1914. In November this index was 250, close to the midpoint of this range.

By comparison the lowest point since 1948, when our primary postwar inflation ended, was 235 in January 1950. The highest was 313 in Feburary 1951.

THE ECONOMIST bases his predictions on two assumptions. The first is that we now have a permanently cheaper dollar as a result of the huge increase in money supply based on increases in both public and private debts. The second is that there will be no further sustained inflation unless there is a major war, which Norton does not anticipate.

Other factors considered in this general forecast were the level of world prices, nature of the monetary systems now operating in the United States and foreign countries, the tendency for the population to increase and the continued economic development all over the world.

NORTON STATES that continuation of present farm price support programs does not enter into his forecast. In the long run, he says, farm prices will be determined by economic realities and not by government operations in the commodity markets.

Need Crop Data From All Corn Growers Here

All corn producers should make certain that a crop acreage report is placed on file with the county ASC (formerly PMA) committee, according to a reminder issued by Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local committee.

"It's quite possible," explained Mr. Bormet, "that corn acreage allotments may be in effect for 1954. In order to be prepared for this possibility, it's essential that we obtain certain crop data for every farm in the county on which corn was planted for any purpose in any of the years 1951 through 1953.

"This information is needed not only to insure each farmer that he will receive his fair allotment, but also to make certain that the county receives its full share of the State allotment."

DURING THE PAST several weeks community committeemen and reporters have been endeavoring to call on all known corn producers in order to secure this needed data. It's possible, however, that some few farmers may have been missed.

Therefore, if there are any farmers who by December 15 had not been contacted by a reporter or have not otherwise turned in the required information, it is urged they immediately call on their local community committeeman or stop at the county office located in Arlington Heights. The information required includes a complete rundown of all crops on the farm for the past three years.

Rural Youth On Farm TV Show

Singing and dancing rural youth members from Livingston county will take over the "Farmtown, U.S.A." television show Sunday, Dec. 27.

Rural Youth is an organization for unmarried farm people more than 18 years old. The group's recreation program will take the spotlight on the TV show.

LAW on the FARM

Warranties in Contracts

It is an established principle of law that when a product is sold by a merchant or dealer it is accompanied by an implied warranty that it will do the thing it is supposed to do, or is fit for the intended use. As a matter of business practice, sellers whose products fail to "measure up" oftentimes "make the buyer whole" by replacing defective parts or by allowing him credit for further purchases.

In the sale of personal property (chattels), there are two important kinds of warranties, express and implied. An express warranty results from explicit statements made by the seller. An implied warranty results, as a matter of law, from the nature of the transaction and of the subject matter. When a farmer buys an oil brooder stove, there is an implied warranty that it will burn satisfactorily and create sufficient heat for the amount of space such a stove is ordinarily supposed to heat. There is no warranty that it will do something such stoves do not ordinarily do unless the seller expressly so warrants.

OFTENTIMES a merchant or dealer, in trying to sell something, will make representations which, while not true, are not stated expressly enough to constitute a warranty. Such language is referred to as "puffing" and does not become a part of the contract of sale. Because of the fact that express warranties are infrequently made and that some implied warranties accompany nearly everything a farmer purchases or sells, the latter are more significant.

Important to a farmer are the following implied warranties:

That livestock feed is fit for consumption by farm animals. There is no implied warranty, however, that it will produce gains or increase production.

THAT SEED is of the kind and variety represented and will grow if planted under normal conditions.

That various types of farm implements will perform in a satisfactory manner the operations for which they are designed.

That serum and virus are effective for the use for which they were manufactured.

That fertilizers contain the elements for which they were purchased.

That animals sold for breeding purposes are not sterile.

Many implied warranties have been "converted" into express warranties or guarantees by the operation of laws requiring analysis and tagging. Good examples are the state feed, seed and fertilizer laws.

Feeding Dairy Cows At Their Calving Time

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees offers Cook county dairymen some suggestions on feeding their cows at calving time.

Give a fresh cow all the roughage she wants. In addition, start feeding grain immediately after calving at the rate of four to five pounds daily. Increase this amount gradually until at the end of three or four weeks the cow is receiving what she deserves on the basis of her production.

IF A COW has a caked or swollen udder, hold down the amount of grain until this condition has largely disappeared. It is caused by an accumulation of fluid under the skin, and the difficulty may be increased by heavy feeding of grain. Feeding grain at a low rate will help to hold down the milk flow and reduce some of the tension.

After the udder has returned to normal, increase the amount of grain as you ordinarily would.

MEES SAYS cows are frequently quite thisrty at calving time, so provide plenty of fresh water. Warm the water if it is extremely cold.

Many dairymen also provide warm bran mash for the cow. While it is not absolutely necesary, a cow will welcome it and will be more contented when it is provided.

Also provide plenty of loose block salt at calving time, as cows will have a craving for it.

Record Cow

Floram Connie, Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Ray E. Meyer of Roselle, has completed a record of 558 pounds of butterfat in giving 14,187 pounds of milk over a period of being milked 365 days, twice a day, with average daily yield of 18 quarts.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Non-Clog Screen Painting

WINTER'S a good time to paint the screens. Of course, they should be repaired first, if necessary. An easy method of painting screens (see illustration) has been described in American Builder, a leading trade magazine.

The paint applicator is simply a block of wood—a four-inch length cut from a two-by-four. Attach to it, as shown, a piece of carpeting, fastening the edges with tacks. Nap of the carpet should face out.

Use this simple device by brushing the paint on the carpeting and then rubbing the paint-soaked surface of the block across the screening. You'll find that there will be no clogging of the screen meshes.

Farms Need Good Housekeeping In Animal Barns

A lot of farm accidents could be prevented if farmers were as concerned about good housekeeping in their barns as their wives are about the appearance of their homes.

When it comes to preventing accidents, good housekeeping around the barn is probably more important than keeping the house spic and span. Gordon McCleary, farm specialist at the University of Illinois, advises farmers to take a little time right now to clean out the hazards around the barn to make winter chores safer.

IF THE ALLEYWAY or other work areas are cluttered with sacks of feed, stools, carts and other obstacles, find a safe, out-of-the-way place for them. Forks, scrapers and other barn-cleaning tools belong in a safe storage rack, not stuck up over beams.

You'll be using the ladder or stairs to the haymow more often now, so make sure all steps and rungs are sound and fastened well. If the ladder doesn't stick up well above the floor, build an extension.

Chances are that you could see a lot better if you cleaned the cobwebs and fly specks from light bulbs. If you're still short of light after cleaning the bulbs, have some extra lights put in. They'll save time and make your work easier and safer.

Winter Watering Of Your Livestock

To get top results, provide an automatic water supply for your livestock. It will cut down on your chores and keep your profits from sinking because the animals are not getting enough water.

Animals need an ample supply of fresh, clean water to produce efficiently, says Frank Andrew, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois.

Watering once or twice a day is not enough for profitable production. A dairy cow will drink 10 to 20 times a day when water is available. A hog likes to eat and then drink.

The easiest and best way to provide an automatic water supply is to install an automatically heated drinking waterer. You can get one from your local dealer. Andrew says there are several different makes on the markt, so you'll have a good selection.

Install it according to the manufacturer's directions, and be sure it is well grounded. Andrews says that practically all cases of fire or other loss with this type of equipment is caused by carelessness—not by failure of the equipment.

WINS FARM BANKER AWARD — John H. Crocker, president of the Citizens National Bank in Decatur, is the "Distinguished Farm Banker" of Illinois, as the result of a state-wide vote by managing officers of Illinois banks.

Feed Dairy Calves High-Quality Hay

Feed only top-quality legume hay to your small dairy calves. If you do, they'll eat more and grow faster.

K. E. Gardner, dairy science specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says leafy, fine-stemmed hay contains more minerals, vitamins and energy than lower grades.

There is little danger of scours from feeding high-quality hay as long as calves are started on it. Then danger comes when they are switched from poor-quality, unpalatable hay to such leafy legumes as second or third cutting alfalfa. Calves will then usually overeat and have digestive upsets.

If you run out of high-quality hay, Gardner recommends buying a new supply. There is no real substitute for it. Calves require only a small amount, and the results are well worth the cost.

Moldy, weedy, stemmy hay has no place in the calf-feeding program.

Farm Home Needs Special Rooms, Architect Says

Five special-purpose areas need to be provided for in the design of a farm home, says Walter T. Anicka, architect, of Ann Arbor, Mich.

They are a large workroom, a clean-up room, a farm office, an extra-large kitchen, and a self-contained freezer room. Some of these areas can be combined in one room.

In farm building design in general, Mr. Anicka suggests using the same solid or blended color asphalt roofing material on all buildings. This gives the neat appearance of planned uniformity, he says.

He points out that economical construction has particular appeal to the farmer because he cannot delay building by renting an apartment or a house. This is an additional reason for the farmer to make full use of modern materials and methods, Mr. Anicka says.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Kenneth Kleiner, who passed away one year ago, Dec. 21, 1952.

You are not forgotten Kenneth dear,
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
One year ago since that sad day
The one we loved was called away,
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts, he is with us still.

Mom, Dad
brother and sisters.

Leucosis Causes 40% Of Losses In Chickens

Leucosis, a triple-threat disease of chickens, may strike your flocks at any age, warns Dr. L. E. Hanson of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

This disease is estimated to cause 40 per cent of the deaths in flocks. Chickens lose weight, egg production slows down or stops and the birds usually die when they have it.

THE THREE FORMS of leucosis strike when birds are at different ages. Range or fowl paralysis is usually found in birds from two to five months old.

"Gray-eye" appears when birds reach early maturity. The eye appears grey in color and may bulge out. The pupil has an irregular shape.

Mature hens and pullets may be affected by the third form, "big liver disease," and may die suddenly for no apparent reason.

There is no known treatment for leucosis. To prevent it, get your eggs, young chicks and breeding stock from disease-free flocks. Raise chicks in clean houses on clean ground away from older birds. Keep down the lice and mites that may help spread the disease. Remove all sick birds from the rest of the flock.

No Relation

First symptoms of rhinitis in pigs are similar to those of a cold, so you'd better watch cold symptoms carefully.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George B. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Ten years ago the 63rd General Assembly created an Illinois state superhighway commission with authority to construct and operate superhighways, to charge tolls for use of superhighways, and to issue revenue bonds to finance the construction.

A survey was made for this commission by Allied Engineers of Detroit, to determine the most desirable routes for such superhighways, estimated costs of construction, and estimated income that would be produced from tolls. With the submission of the report to the commission on December 18, 1944, progress ended so far as the development of toll roads was concerned.

TEN YEARS LATER at the 1953 session, the 68th general assembly created the Illinois state toll highway commission, and appropriated $436,000 for ordinary and contingent expenses plus another $64,000 for compensation of the three commissioners for the two years of the present biennium. The three commissioners appointed by the governor are Evan Howell, chairman, Orville Taylor and Chauncey McCormick. The governor and the director of the department of public works and buildings are also members.

This new commission as a point of departure might dust off the 1944 report by Allied Engineers.

This report showed that a route from Chicago to St. Louis approximately parallel to present U. S. 66 at a toll rate based on one-half cent per mile for passenger cars and three cents per mile for trucks would pay annual operating and maintenance costs plus principal and interest on revenue bonds sufficient to cover 36.6% of construction costs, so that other funds would be necessary to pay 63.4% of construction costs.

A cross-state route from St. Louis to the Indiana boundary just west of Terre Haute would require other funds to finance 88.2% of construction costs. A north cross-state route from Chicago terminating at Rockford would similarly require 88.2% from other funds for construction.

THE REPORT found that a Chicago Congress street route, and extensions north and south of Lake Shore drive, would not lend themselves to toll road operation because there would have to be so many service drives and points of access and egress, and recommended such routes be constructed as free superhighways.

A southeast Chicago route to the Indiana state line at a twenty-five cent toll rate would pay only 89.5% of the construction cost in addition to maintenance and operation, according to the report, so that other funds would be necessary to finance 10.5% of the construction cost. A southwest Chicago route along the Illinois-Michigan Canal to McCook at a toll base of twenty-five cents would pay only 53.2% of construction cost, in addition to annual maintenance and operation, so that other funds would be required to finance 46.8% of construction.

ONLY ONE route was found that would lend itself to toll road operation and that would be 100 per cent self-liquidating over 30 years from toll collections—a route within the city of Chicago running northwest to Bryn Mawr avenue and Northwest highway on a toll base of twenty-five cents.

Construction costs have increased substantially since the estimates made by Allied Engineers in their report in 1944. On the other hand, the number of passenger automobiles, trucks and busses has increased tremendously. There were 1,518,629 passenger cars registered in 1944 in Illinois, 2,457,002 in 1952. There were 216,930 trucks and busses registered in 1944 in Illinois, 383,021 in 1952.

It would appear from this 1944 study that toll superhighways in Chicago and the Chicago area offer the greatest opportunity for attracting investors in toll road bonds.

Ruth Chatterton To Open Showcase Theater

Opening Christmas night, Friday, Dec. 25, Showcase theatre producer Hope Summers will present the glamorous star of stage and screen, Ruth Chatterton in Rachel Crothers' comedy, "Susan and God." Appearing opposite Miss Chatterton will be Barry Thomson, who in private life is married to Miss Chatterton.

The play, "Susan and God," is a brilliant study of a selfish woman whose latest fashionable fad is a new religion. When Susan (played by Miss Chatterton) tries to reform her friends and is challenged by her husband (played by Barry Thomson) and daughter (played by Marian Brown) to live up to her alleged "faith," through a series of amusing situations the tables are turned and Susan is the one actually reformed. First produced on Broadway in 1937, "Susan and God" was a great success and starred the late Gertrude Lawrence.

Theatre For Children is presenting "Hansel and Gretel" Saturday, Dec. 26, at 1:30 p. m. Opening January 2, under the direction of Lee Foley Theatre For Children will present the gay "Peter and the Wolf."

Loans To Students At NU On The Increase

The dollar amount of student loans granted by Northwestern University in the fiscal year 1952-53 was more than two and a half times what it was in 1950-51, a survey by the student finance department has revealed. The number of students receiving loans also has risen sharply.

In fiscal 1950-51, the University loaned 154 students $17,405. During the past fiscal year, 263 students received $47,421 in loans.

Northwestern estimates that in the present fiscal year the dollar value of loans will be more than four times the 1950-51 figure, with $75,000 going to 380 students.

The cause of the upward trend in loans has been a general tightening of economic conditions and the fact that there are fewer veterans on campus receiving government assistance.
